

Economics and Philosophy

edited by

Peter Koslowski

J.C.B. Mohr (Paul Siebeck) Tübingen 1985

Contents

Preface	V
Philosophy and Economics. An Introduction
PETER KOSLOWSKI	1

Part I

Economics and Social Philosophy

Chapter 1

Political Economy and Social Philosophy
JAMES M. BUCHANAN	19
Comment on “Political Economy and Social Philosophy”
FRANCESCO FORTE	33
Discussion Summary

Chapter 2

Economy Principle, Maximizing, and the Co-ordination of Individuals in Economics and Philosophy
PETER KOSLOWSKI	39
On Using Leibniz in Economics. Comment on Peter Koslowski
HANS ALBERT	68
Discussion Summary

Chapter 3

Economic History and Philosophy
R. MAX HARTWELL	80

Part II

Ethics, Economics, and Theory of Rationality

Chapter 4

Beyond Economic Man: Humanistic Economics
MARK A. LUTZ	91
Comment on "Beyond Economic Man: Humanistic Economics"
EMIL KÜNG	121
Discussion Summary

/ Chapter 5

Types of Rationality and Economic Action
WILHELM VOSSENKUHL	126
Types of Rationality versus Theory of Rationality
KARL HOMANN	141
Discussion Summary

Part III

Philosophy and Economic Policy

Chapter 6

Philosophy and Economic Policy
TERENCE W. HUTCHISON	161
Comment on "Philosophy and Economic Policy"
JACK WISEMAN	174
Discussion Summary

Chapter 7

Ideology and Analysis in Macroeconomics
AXEL LEIJONHUFVUD	182
Comment on "Ideology and Analysis in Macroeconomics"
KARL BRUNNER	208
Discussion Summary

Part IV

Economics and Religion

Chapter 8

Must One Be Buddhist to Grow? An Analysis of the Cultural Basis of Japanese Productivity
SERGE-CHRISTOPHE KOLM	221
Buddhist Values and Japanese Growth. Comment on Serge Kolm
AXEL LEIJONHUFVUD	243
Discussion Summary

Part V

The Place of the Economy in Society

Chapter 9

The Economic Mode of Thought in an Anthropological Perspective
LOUIS DUMONT	251
Comment on "The Economic Mode of Thought in an Anthropological Perspective"
R. MAX HARTWELL	262
Discussion Summary

Part VI

Concluding Statements and Discussion

Chapter 10

A Conference Summary
BRUNO S. FREY	269
Where Is More Fog – In Philosophy or in Economics?
FRIEDRICH KAMBARTEL	272
Utilitarianism and Contractualism
JOHN SKORUPSKI	275
Discussion Summary
Index of Names	279
List of Contributors and Discussants	283