

MANUEL CUADRA
with ALFONSO CORONA MARTÍNEZ

TESTA ARCHITECT

Photography by
HANS-JÜRGEN COMMEREILL

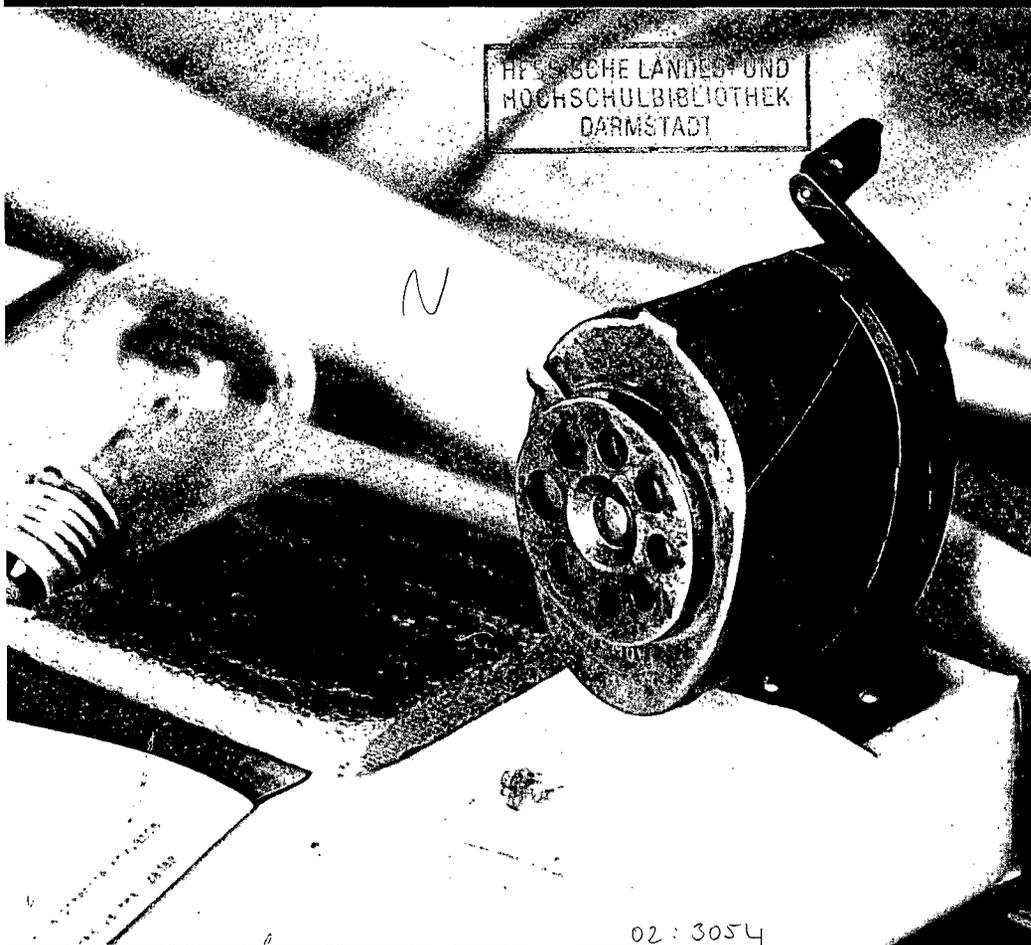

Edited by
KRISTIN FEIREISS

NAi Publishers, Rotterdam

This publication started with a mutual fascination for the work of Clorindo Testa. It is the result of intensive and fruitful teamwork. Therefore, I would like to thank the Argentinian architect Lucas Young, who was so helpful in initiating this project; Jorge Glusberg, who was very supportive in realising the project; the photographer Hans-Jürgen Commerell, for his sensitive interpretation of Testa's work; the author Manuel Cuadra, who intensively studied Testa's ideas and buildings; Alfonso Corona Martínez who assisted Manuel Cuadra in writing the project descriptions, and Cristián Buácar who assisted him in compiling the bibliography. Thanks also to Marcela Alonso, Manuela García Faure and Libertad Vigo for their input.

I would also like to thank Barbera van Kooij of NAI Publishers for the overall coordination of the production and especially Ad van der Kouwe, whose personal commitment, ideas and visual insight resulted in this final concrete form.

Kristin Feireiss

CONTENTS

PREFACE 6

TIME AND TIMELESSNESS IN TWO BUILDINGS BY CLORINDO TESTA 8

CLORINDO TESTA, PORTRAIT OF AN ARCHITECT AND AN ARCHITECTURE II

- First World, Third World: The international context 12
- The local context: Twentieth century Argentina 14
- Between Ceppaloni and Santa Rosa de La Pampa 15
- Living in Buenos Aires 16
- Development of sensibility 17
- Seeking a path of his own 18
- Challenges: public life, urban fabric, architecture 20
- Creative detachment 21
- Art and politics 23

THE ARCHITECTURE OF CLORINDO TESTA 26

Internationalism and Avant-garde 26

- An early work of great maturity: The Civic Centre of Santa Rosa de La Pampa 31
- What remains is the city: The Bank of London and South America 43
- The head of the nation: The National Library 53
- A twentieth century patio house: The Guido di Tella Residence 63
- Like a ship: The Central Naval Hospital 69
- Space and structure: The Apartment Building Calle Rodríguez Peña 77
- One or two?: The Apartment Building Calle Castex 81

Spirit, Time and Architecture 85

Fantastic Realism 87

- Unity of art and architecture: The Cultural Centre of the City of Buenos Aires and the Buenos Aires Design Centre 91
- The house of the architect: The 'Capotesta' Beach House 101
- Form, space, structure: 'La Tumbona' Beach House 107
- The city and the sea: 'La Perla' Beach Complex 113
- Old and new: The Ghirardo Residence 121
- An architecture of earthly peace: The Soka Gakkai International Auditorium 129

Architecture, Art and Structure 136

- Simple and complex: The 'Altera' Art Gallery 139
- Modern and Baroque in one: The Notaries Association Building 145
- The Green House of Mrs. R: House R 149

BIOGRAPHY 153

BIBLIOGRAPHY 155