

Problems in Price Theory

DAVID de MEZA

The London School of Economics

MICHAEL OSBORNE

Hoare Govett Ltd

Philip Allan

Contents

Foreword	ix
Professor David Laidler

Introduction	xi
--------------	----

PART I

1. Basic Consumer Theory	3
Appendix: The Revealed Preference Approach	22
2. Labour Supply	26
3. Intertemporal Choice	40
Appendix: Depletable Resources	53
4. Choice under Uncertainty	57
5. Production and Cost Theory	75
6. Labour Demand	90
7. Competitive Markets	104
8. Monopoly	119
9. Imperfect Competition	136
10. Welfare Economics	149
11. General Equilibrium	173

PART II

12. 'New' Theories of Consumer Behaviour	197
(A) The demand for characteristics, including application to portfolio choice	197
(B) The allocation of time	214
(C) Family decision making	225
13. Searching for the 'Best' Price	232
14. 'Lemons', 'Screening' and 'Signalling'	263
15. Public Choice	283
Index	297