Section I: Cognitive Load and Expertise in Learning and Performance

Chapter I
Human Cognitive Processes	1
Introduction	1
Main Features of our Cognitive Architecture	2
Role of Domain Knowledge in Cognitive Processes	4
Reducing Cognitive Load in Learning and Performance	6
Knowledge Base and Executive Function	8
Resource-Efficiency in Operation of our Cognitive Architecture	11
Evolution of our Cognitive Architecture	14
Role of Expertise in Cognitive Processing	17
Task-Specific Expertise	19
Role of Task-Specific Expertise in Learning	21
From Task-Specific to Adaptive Expertise	23
Future Trends in the Study of Human Cognition	25
Instructional Design Implications	27
Summary of Chapter I	27
References	28

Chapter II

Cognitive Load Theory	34
Introduction	34
The Concept of Cognitive Load	35
Essential (Effective) Cognitive Load	35
Extraneous (non-essential) Cognitive Load	37
Germane Cognitive Load	39
Cognitive Load Effects	42
Worked Examples Effect	42
Split Attention Effect	43
The Redundancy Effect	44
The Modality Effect	46
Cognitive Theory of Multimedia Learning	47
Cognitive Overload in Multimedia Learning	48
Future Trends in Cognitive Load Theory	50
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	52
Summary of Chapter II	53
References	54

Chapter III

The Expertise Reversal Effect	58
Introduction	58
Levels of Expertise and Imbalances of Executive Function	59
Cognitive Explanations of the Expertise Reversal Effect	60
Optimization of Cognitive Load in Instruction	63
Expertise Reversal Effect and Aptitude-Treatment Interactions	64
Empirical Longitudinal Studies of the Expertise Reversal Effect	66
Expertise Reversal for Methods of Enhancing Essential Cognitive Load	69
Expertise Reversal in Textual and Hypertextual Materials	71
Future Trends in the Investigation of the Expertise Reversal Effect	72
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	73
Summary of Chapter III	74
References	75

Chapter IV

Assessment of Task-Specific Expertise	81
Introduction	81
Assessment of Domain-Specific Knowledge	82
Rapid Diagnostic Assessment Approach	83
First-Step Diagnostic Method	86
Example of Using First-Step Method in Algebra	87
Rapid Verification Diagnostic Method	89

Example of Using Rapid Verification Method in Kinematics.....	91
Example of Using the Rapid Verification Method for Graph Transforming Tasks.....	93
Future Trends in Diagnosis of Expertise.....	95
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications.....	97
Summary of Chapter IV.....	98
References.....	99

Chapter V

Evaluation of Cognitive Load	101
Introduction.....	101
Approaches to Evaluating Cognitive Load in Learning and Instruction.....	101
Evaluation of Cognitive Load using Rating Scales and Dual-Task Technique	104
Evaluation of Cognitive Load using Concurrent Verbal Reports	106
Measures of Instructional Efficiency	108
Measures of Instructional Involvement	112
Future Trends in Evaluation of Cognitive Load and Efficiency.....	113
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications.....	114
Summary of Chapter V.....	115
References.....	116
Summary of Section I	120

Section II:

Managing Multimedia Cognitive Load for Novice and Expert Learners

Chapter VI

Managing Cognitive Load in Verbal and Pictorial Representations.....	123
Introduction.....	123
Cognitive Load in Pictorial Representations.....	124
Reducing Split-Attention in On-Screen Text and Graphics.....	125
Reducing Cognitive Load in On-Screen or Printed Text.....	127
Managing Cognitive Load in Dual-Modality (audiovisual) Presentations	128
Multimedia Redundancy Effect.....	132
Empirical Study of the Effect of Segmentation on Multimedia Redundancy ...	134
Reducing Visual Cognitive Load in Interactive Dynamic Representations	136
Empirical Investigation of Cognitive Load in Instructional Simulations	140
Future Trends in the Design of Audiovisual Multimedia Presentations	142
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications.....	143
Summary of Chapter VI.....	143
References.....	144

Chapter VII

Managing Cognitive Load in Interactive Multimedia	149
Introduction	149
Interactive Learning Environments	151
Cognitive Load in Interactive Learning Environments	153
Reducing Extraneous Cognitive Load in Interactive Learning	157
Cognitive Load in Interactive Hypermedia Learning	158
Expertise Reversal in Hypertext and Hypermedia Learning Environments	161
Future Trends in Cognitively Optimized Interactive Learning Environments ..	163
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	165
Summary of Chapter VII	165

Chapter VIII

Managing Cognitive Load in Dynamic Visual Representations	171
Introduction	171
Advantages and Weaknesses of Instructional Animations	172
Cognitive Load in Dynamic Visualizations	176
Animated Pedagogical Agents	178
Managing Cognitive Load in Dynamic Visualizations	180
Prior Knowledge Effects for Dynamic Visual Representations	182
Study of the Expertise Reversal for Animated and Static Diagrams	184
Future Trends in Research on Dynamic Visualizations	186
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	188
Summary of Chapter VIII	189
References	190

Chapter IX

Optimizing Cognitive Load in Instructional Simulations and Games	198
Introduction	198
Simulations as Tools of Instructional Technology	199
Enhancing Instructional Effectiveness of Educational Games	201
Optimizing Learner Guidance and Support in Simulations	202
Evaluating Cognitive Load in Online Simulations	206
Cognitive Load Issues in Using Mobile Devices	209
Future Trends in Instructional Simulations and Games	211
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	213
Summary of Chapter IX	213
References	214

Summary of Section II	217
------------------------------------	------------

Section III:
Towards Cognitively Efficient Adaptive Multimedia

Chapter X
Tailoring Multimedia Environments to Learner Cognitive Characteristics.....
Characteristics.....	221
Introduction.....	221
Aptitude-Treatment Interactions and Adaptive Instruction.....	222
Adaptive Approaches in Complex Learning Environments	225
Learner Modeling in Adaptive Online Environments	228
Learner Control and Adaptive Guidance as Means of Individualizing Instructional Procedures.....	230
Future Trends.....	234
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	236
Summary of Chapter X.....	237
References.....	238
Chapter XI
Adapting Levels of Instructional Support to Optimize Learning Complex Cognitive Skills
Complex Cognitive Skills	246
Introduction.....	246
Learning Complex Cognitive Skills	247
Design Models for Complex Learning.....	249
Varying Levels of Learner Control in Complex Environments	252
Learner Expertise and Levels of Instructional Guidance.....	255
Expertise Reversal for Instructional Guidance and Sequencing of Learning Tasks.....	257
Means for the Gradual Change of Levels of Instructional Support in Adaptive Learning.....	261
Future Trends.....	265
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	266
Summary of Chapter XI	267
References.....	268
Chapter XII
Adaptive Procedures for Efficient Learning.....
Adaptive Procedures for Efficient Learning.....	272
Introduction.....	272
Adaptive Procedures Using Rapid Measures of Performance.....	273
Adaptive Procedures Using Multiple Cognitive Measures	277
Comparisons of Different Adaptive Procedures.....	281
Future Trends.....	283
Multimedia Instructional Design Implications	284

Summary of Chapter XII	285
