

JAMES F. ENGEL Wheaton College, Graduate School

DAVID T. KOLLAT Vice President and Director of Research
Management Horizons, Inc.
Columbus, Ohio

ROGER D. BLACKWELL The Ohio State University

CONSUMER BEHAVIOR

2nd
Edition

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. :	16.773
Abstell-Nr. :	A28/917
Sachgebiete:	5.8
	0245159

DRYDEN PRESS
HINSDALE, ILLINOIS

Contents

	EDITORS' FOREWORD	iii
	PREFACE	v
PART I	INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW	1
1	The Role of the Consumer in Marketing	3
	The Field of Consumer Behavior	5
	The Decision-Process Approach	7
	Consumer Behavior and Society	9
	Consumer Behavior and Management	12
	Summary	18
	Review and Discussion Questions	19
2	The Consumer: Perspectives and Viewpoints	20
	The Study of Human Behavior	20
	The Consumer in Economic Theory	25
	The Consumer in the Marketing Literature	27
	Models of Buyer Behavior	34
	Summary	42
	Review and Discussion Questions	42
3	An Overview of Consumer Decision-Process Behavior	44
	Nature of Consumer Decision Processes	45
	A Multimediation Model of Consumer Behavior	49
	Using the Model to Explain Consumer Behavior	62
	Summary	67
	Review and Discussion Questions	67
		ix

X CONTENTS

PART II	GROUP INFLUENCES ON CONSUMER BEHAVIOR	69
4	The Cultural Context of Consumer Behavior	71
	Nature of Culture	72
	Basic Assumptions About Culture	73
	Methods of Studying Culture	76
	Crosscultural Analysis of Consumer Behavior	89
	Fundamental Forces of Change in American Values	96
	Emerging American Values	101
	Summary	109
	Review and Discussion Questions	109
5	Social Stratification	111
	The Process of Stratification	111
	Social-Class Determinants	115
	Measurement of Social Classes	121
	Social Classes in America	131
	Social-Class Influences on Individual Psychological Makeup	143
	Social Class and Consumption Decisions	148
	Summary	157
	Review and Discussion Questions	159
6	Reference Group and Subcultural Influences	160
	The Nature of Reference Groups	161
	Functions of Reference Groups	162
	Marketing Analysis of Reference-Group Influence	172
	Subcultural Influences on Consumption	176
	Black Cultural Influences on Consumption	178
	Summary	188
	Review and Discussion Questions	189
7	Family Influences on Consumer Behavior	190
	Introduction	190
	Family Influences on Individual Personality Characteristics, Attitudes, and Evaluative Criteria	192
	Family Life Cycle	193
	Family Role Structures	196
	Measuring Family Role Structure	201
	Summary	205
	Review and Discussion Questions	205
PART III	THE NATURE AND INFLUENCE OF INDIVIDUAL PREDISPOSITIONS	207
8	The Central Control Unit: Its Nature and Function	209
	Information Processing	210
	Influence of Behavior	224

	Summary	225
	Review and Discussion Questions	226
9	Learning Processes	227
	The Nature of Learning	227
	Components of the Learning Process	232
	Learning Theory and Marketing Research	244
	Summary	245
	Review and Discussion Questions	246
10	Evaluative Criteria	247
	Nature of Evaluative Criteria	248
	Types of Evaluative Criteria	250
	Measuring Evaluative Criteria	254
	Can Evaluative Criteria Be Changed?	260
	Summary	264
	Review and Discussion Questions	264
11	Attitudes	266
	The Nature and Function of Attitudes	266
	Attitude Measurement	274
	Attitude Change	283
	Summary	284
	Review and Discussion Questions	285
12	Personality	286
	Personality Theories Utilized in Marketing	287
	Using Personality Measures to Predict Buyer Behavior	290
	Proper Utilization of Personality Theory in Analysis of Buyer Behavior	297
	Summary	305
	Review and Discussion Questions	306
PART IV	PERSUASIVE COMMUNICATION AND ATTITUDE CHANGE	307
13	Persuasive Communication	308
	The Nature of Communication	308
	Using the Mass Media	313
	Mass Communication Research	318
	Summary	323
	Review and Discussion Questions	323
14	Attitude Change	325
	Discrepancy Between Message and Recipients' Attitudes	326
	Variations in Message Content	330
	Manipulation of Structural Variables	336

	Summary	347
	Review and Discussion Questions	348
PART V	DECISION PROCESSES	349
15	Problem-Recognition Processes	351
	The Nature of Problem-Recognition Processes	351
	Measuring Problem Recognition	361
	Applications of Problem-Recognition Processes	364
	Summary	371
	Review and Discussion Questions	372
16	Search and Alternative Evaluation Processes: Mass Media and Marketer Dominated Sources of Information	373
	Nature of Search and Alternative Evaluation	374
	Determinants of External Search and Alternative Evaluation	376
	The Mass Media as an Information Source	384
	Marketer-Dominated Sources of Information	388
	Summary	391
	Review and Discussion Questions	392
17	Search and Alternative Evaluation Processes: Personal Sources of Information	393
	Interpersonal Communications	393
	Personal Influence	396
	Alternative 'Models' of Interpersonal Communication and Personal Influence	402
	Summary	408
	Review and Discussion Questions	408
18	Additional Dimensions of Search and Alternative Evaluation Processes	410
	Family Role Structures Associated with Information Seeking	410
	Relative Importance of Information Sources	412
	Determinants of the Relative Importance of Information Sources	416
	Marketing Implications	422
	Summary	434
	Review and Discussion Questions	434
19	Purchasing Processes: Store Choice and Shopper Profiles	436
	Nature of Purchasing Processes	437
	Store Choice	442
	Shopper Profiles	456
	Marketing Implications	462

	Summary	465
	Review and Discussion Questions	465
20	Purchasing Processes: In-Store Behavior	466
	Purchasing Role Structures	466
	The Effects of Store Layout and Displays on Consumer Behavior	469
	The Effects of Product Shelving on Consumer Behavior	478
	The Effects of Pricing Techniques on Consumer Behavior	482
	The Effects of Out-of-Stocks, Brands, Deals, and Packaging on Consumer Behavior	488
	Summary	497
	Review and Discussion Questions	498
21	Additional Dimensions of Purchasing Processes	499
	The Effects of Customer-Salesman Interaction on Consumer Behavior	499
	Relationships between Purchase Intentions and Purchase Behavior	507
	Attraction-Conversion Analysis	520
	Purchasing Processes without Customer-Store Environment Interaction	522
	A General Evaluation of Purchasing-Process Research	526
	Summary	527
	Review and Discussion Questions	528
22	Postpurchase Processes	529
	Triggering New Behavior	529
	Postpurchase Evaluation	532
	Summary	543
	Review and Discussion Questions	543
PART VI	ADDITIONAL DIMENSIONS OF CONSUMER BEHAVIOR	545
23	Brand Loyalty	547
	Nature of Brand Loyalty	547
	Brand Loyalty Correlates	553
	Brand Loyalty Models	559
	Marketing Implications	573
	Summary	575
	Review and Discussion Questions	575
24	Diffusion of Innovations	577
	Consumer Decision Making for New Products	578
	The Diffusion Research Tradition	579
	Elements of the Diffusion Process	580

xiv CONTENTS

	The Innovation-Decision Process	585
	Predicting Diffusion and Adoption Success	589
	Correlates of Innovativeness	598
	Summary	609
	Review and Discussion Questions	610
PART VII	EPILOGUE	613
25	Consumerism	614
	Nature of Consumerism	615
	Consumer Behavior and Consumerism	619
	Issues in Consumerism	623
	The Future of Voluntarism	640
	Summary	641
	Review and Discussion Questions	641
26	The Current Status of Consumer Behavior Research: Problems and Prospects	643
	Some Provisional Generalizations about
	Consumer Behavior	644
	The Current Status of Consumer Behavior Research	646
	Recommendations for Improving
	Consumer Behavior Research	650
	Summary	665
	Review and Discussion Questions	666
	INDEX	667