FINANCIAL LIBERALIZATION AND INVESTMENT

Kanhaya L. Gupta
and
Robert Lensink

Technische Hochschule Darmstadt
Volkswirtschaftliche Bibliothek

ROUTLEDGE
London and New York

CONTENTS

List of figures ix
List of tables xi
Acknowledgements xii

1 INTRODUCTION 1
Appendix 1 8

2 THE BASE MODEL 10
The model 11
Financial liberalization and the supply of credit to the private sector 19
Financial liberalization and private investment 21
Concluding remarks 25
Appendix 2 26
Appendix 3 28

3 ROLE OF FOREIGN AID AND THE GOVERNMENT 30
The fiscal response to foreign aid 31
The model when government expenditures and taxes are endogenized 34
Financial liberalization when foreign aid is exogenous 38
The role of foreign aid when aid is endogenized 42
Conclusions 45
Appendix 4 47

4 THE ROLE OF INFORMAL FINANCIAL MARKETS 50
Different types of informal financial intermediaries 51
Theories on the working of informal financial markets 54
Role of interest rate deregulation in the presence of curb markets: A brief survey 58

The model 60
Financial liberalization and private investment 63
Conclusions 67
Appendix 5 67

5 ALLOCATIVE EFFICIENCY AND FINANCIAL DEREGULATION 69
The Galbis model 70
Some empirical evidence 71
The model 75
How to measure the improvement of the allocative efficiency? 79
The impact of deregulation of the formal deposit rate on the allocative efficiency 79
Conclusions 85

6 BANKING EFFICIENCY AND PRIVATE INVESTMENT 86
The Viaene model 87
The model 87
Banking efficiency and private investment if the private sector is credit constrained 89
Banking efficiency and investment if the private sector is not credit constrained 93
Concluding remarks 94

7 SOME SIMULATION RESULTS 96
The model 97
The simulation strategy 107
The simulation results 113
Concluding remarks 142
Appendix 6 143

8 FINANCIAL REPRESSION AND FISCAL POLICY 146
The simulation strategy 147
The simulation results 147
Concluding remarks 164

9 SUMMING UP 166

Notes 168
Bibliography 171
Index 179