

International Corporate Planning

Michael Z. Brooke

Director of the International Business Unit and Senior Lecturer in Management Sciences at the University of Manchester Institute of Science and Technology

Mark van Beusekom

former Director of Corporate strategic planning,
N.V. Philips' Gloeilampenfabrieken

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. :	17.806
Abstell-Nr. :	A 12/894
Sachgebiete:	12.2

Contents

List of figures viii

List of tables ix

Preface xi

Part I The International Company 1

1 International 3

- 1.1 Companies Great and Small 3
- 1.2 The Case for Specialization 6
- 1.3 The Concerns of Planning 8
- 1.4 The Particular Concerns of International Planning 10
- 1.5 The Motives for International Planning 11
- 1.6 The Pressures against International Planning 14
- 1.7 A Balance of Pressures 16
- 1.8 The Time Dimension 18
- 1.9 A Philosophy for Formal International Planning 20

2 The Route Abroad 22

- 2.1 The International Firm 22
- 2.2 Moving Abroad: some Options 28
- 2.3 Export 35
- 2.4 The Sale of Knowledge 38
- 2.5 Planning for Foreign Investment 41
- 2.6 The Strategic Subsidiary and the Regional Centre 45
- 2.7 Organization Planning for the International Company 47
- 2.8 Problems, Opportunities, the Future 50

Part II The Environment 53

3 The Changing Environment 55

- 3.1 Government Intervention 57
- 3.2 Social Change and Social Responsibility 58
- 3.3 The Consumer, Competition and the Marketing Approach 66
- 3.4 Technological Change 68
- 3.5 Financial Change 70

- 4 The Implications at the Political Level 72
  - 4.1 Developments in the International Climate and their Repercussions 72
  - 4.2 National Aspirations 77
  - 4.3 Corporate Planning and National Planning 80
  - 4.4 Governments as Customers 83
  - 4.5 Consumer Reaction and Protection 83
  - 4.6 Trade Balances and Investment Flows 87
- 5 Policies for Geographical Diversification 92
  - 5.1 A Spread of Risk which Carries its Own Risk 93
  - 5.2 The Search for Resources and Markets 99
  - 5.3 Guidelines for an International Investment Strategy 101
- 6 Policies for Product and Financial Diversification 108
  - 6.1 Another Spread of Risk which Carries its Own Risk 108
  - 6.2 Different Diversification Routes with their Characteristic Problems 109
  - 6.3 Some of the Issues Involved in Systematically Appraising the Diversification Routes 120
  - 6.4 Product Development 122

Part III The Planning 129

- 7 Central Planning and Local Initiative 131
  - 7.1 Action Orientation 131
  - 7.2 The Planning Process 133
  - 7.3 Central Planning: Cohesion and Stimulus 138
  - 7.4 Planning from the Top Down and the Bottom Up 140
- 8 Tools for International Planning 147
  - 8.1 The Nature of the Planning Tools: some Introductory Considerations 147
  - 8.2 Forecasting 157
  - 8.3 Planning with Existing Resources 167
  - 8.4 Project Appraisal 169
  - 8.5 Planning Tools and the Support of Electronic Data Processing 179
- 9 Control and Information 184
  - 9.1 Coping with Information from the Changing Business Environment 187
  - 9.2 Finance 190

- 9.3 Marketing 196
- 9.4 Research and Development 200
- 9.5 Production 203
- 9.6 Sourcing 204
- 9.7 Staffing 205
- 9.8 Planning 206

Part IV The International Planning Function 209

- 10 The Role and the Organization of the Planning Function 211
  - 10.1 Differing Roles as a Result of Differing Tasks 213
  - 10.2 A Role that is Both Objective and Participative 215
  - 10.3 Some of the Roles Assigned or Assumed 217
  - 10.4 Supporting the Setting of Priorities 221
  - 10.5 The Organization of the Planning Department 223
  - 10.6 Systems, Procedures and Manpower in the Planning Department 231
- 11 The Activities of Planning Departments 242
  - 11.1 Establishing a Framework and Updating the Objectives 243
  - 11.2 Strategic Planning 245
  - 11.3 Tactical Planning 247
  - 11.4 Operational Planning 255
  - 11.5 Planning for the Planning Department 261
- 12 International Corporate Planning: The Future 264

Appendix I The Theoretical Background 278

Appendix II The Business Foreground 287

Notes 297

Bibliography 308

Index 315