

The Current Inflation

Proceedings of a Conference held at the London School of Economics on 22 February 1971

Edited by

H. G. JOHNSON

and

A. R. NOBAY

1

2

Macmillan

St Martin's Press

Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
Introduction Harry G. Johnson	vii

PART ONE: PRICE AND WAGE RELATIONSHIPS IN MACRO-ECONOMIC MODELS

1	Some Aspects of the Present Inflation and the National Institute Model Michael Artis	3
2	Inflation and the Southampton Model Ivor Pearce	38
3	Inflation and the London Business School Model R. J. Ball	43
4	A Study of Wages and Prices in the U.K. 1949– 1968 J. D. Sargan	52

PART TWO: THE PHILLIPS CURVE AND INCOMES POLICY

5	The Phillips Curve, Expectations and Incomes Policy David Laidler	75
6	The Phillips Curve: Incomes Policy and Trade Union Effects Leslie Godfrey	99
7	The Micro-economics of the Phillips Curve Maurice Peston	125
8	The Determinants of the Rate of Change of Money Wage Rates and the Effectiveness of Incomes Policy A. G. Hines	143

PART THREE: PANEL – OPENING STATEMENTS

9	External Influences and Inflation in the United Kingdom Leslie Dicks-Mireaux	179
10	Some Observations on Inflation and Incomes Policy Sir Frederick Catherwood	185
11	The Phillips Curve: A Historical Perspective, Lessons from Recent Empirical Studies and Alternative Policy Choices Michael Parkin	191
12	Some Features of Incomes Policy, and Comments on the Current Inflation Ralph Turvey	196
	Index	203