

ED A. HEWETT

---

Reforming the Soviet Economy

Equality versus Efficiency

THE BROOKINGS INSTITUTION
Washington, D.C.

Contents

1. The Analytical Framework	1
Strengths and Weaknesses of Analysis by an Outside Observer	4
The Concept of Economic Reform	10
Stages of Economic Reform	20
2. Soviet Economic Performance: Strengths and Weaknesses	31
On the Need for a Balanced Picture	33
Assessing Soviet Economic Performance	34
Soviet Economic Performance: Strengths	37
Soviet Economic Performance: Weaknesses	50
The Economic Reform Problem	92
3. The Soviet Economic System As It Is Designed to Operate	94
Formal versus De Facto Systems, and the Logic of Both	96
The Formal System	101
The Formal System in Action	147
4. The Soviet Economic System As It Actually Operates	153
Comparison between the Formal and De Facto Systems	153
The Decisionmaking Hierarchy	161
The Information System	182
The Incentive System	197
The De Facto System in Action	211
5. Khrushchev to Brezhnev: Previous Efforts at Economic Reform	221
The Sovnarkhoz Reforms	223
The 1965 Reforms	227

The 1973 Industrial Reorganization	245
The July 1979 Decree	250
Common Elements in the History of Reforms	255
6. Setting the Stage for Gorbachev: Andropov, Chernenko, and the Debates	257
Andropov and the Economy	258
Chernenko's Year	273
Debates on the Economic System	274
7. The Gorbachev Reforms	303
Gorbachev's Goals for the Economy	306
Overview of Gorbachev's Economic Strategy	309
The Pre-Reform Stage	310
Economic Reforms	322
The Reforms of 1985-86 and their Relationship to the Osnovnye Polozheniia	333
Guideposts to the Future	348
8. The USSR on the Eve of the Twenty-first Century	365
Measuring the Impact of Gorbachev's Economic Strategy	367
Measures of Qualitative Change	370
Alternative Scenarios for the Gorbachev Reforms	373
The West and the Reform Process	379
The USSR in the Twenty-first Century	390
Index	393