

Multinationals of the South:

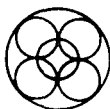

New Actors in the International Economy

edited by

Khushi M. Khan

Frances Pinter Publishers, London

German Overseas Institute, Hamburg

Contents

Preface and acknowledgements— Christian Heimpel	vii
Introduction	ix
1. Multinationals from the South: emergence, patterns and issues Khushi M. Khan	1
2. The investment development cycle and Third World multinationals John H. Dunning	15
3. Operational relevance of Third World multinationals to collective self reliance: some problems, provocations and possibilities Reginald H. Green	48
4. Multinational production joint ventures of developing countries, their economic development and specific features Marjan Svetličič	67
5. Third World multinationals and trade expansion among the countries of the South Sumitra Chishti	88
6. Comment on Chapter 5 Malcolm H. Dunn and Heiko Körner	113
7. State trading in international markets: a multinational strategy for developing countries Ricardo A. Suarez	130
8. Multilateral finance institutions of developing countries as promoters of their financial cooperation Mojmir Mrak	149
9. Arab multinationals: problems, potential and policies Jeffrey B. Nugent	165
10. Third World multinationals and balance of payments' effect on home countries: a case study of India J. P. Agarwal	184
11. New and old multinationals: competitors or partners? Louis T. Wells Jr.	196

12. Practices and policies of host countries towards Third World multinationals: a competitive edge against old multinationals? Karl Wohlmuth	211
List of contributors	241
Index	243