Effective Managerial Leadership

James J. Cribbin

American Management Association, Inc.

Contents

1 Managerial Leadership: Fulcrum for Profitability 1

Management: The Role and the Functions; A Formal and an Informal View of the Manager's Job; Management, the Learnable but Unteachable Art; Managers and Administrators; Managers and Leaders; The Nature of Managerial Leadership; Some Sense and Nonsense About Managerial Leadership; Major Dimensions of Managerial Leadership

2 Fifty-seven Varieties of Leader 18

Formal Versus Nonformal Leadership; Authoritarian, Democratic, and Laissez-Faire Leaders; Leaders in Bureaucracies; A Psychoanalytical View of Managerial Leadership; Charismatic Leaders; Managerial Leadership as a Pattern of Traits; The Situational Approach; What Does It All Add Up To?

3 Research Guidelines 32

The Earlier Studies; The Michigan Studies; The Ohio State Studies; The Leadership Contingency Approach; The Human Dilemmas of Leadership; Some Attempted Syntheses; Implications for the Practicing Manager

4 Macro Factors 49

Leadership Is a Culturally Defined Variable; Subcultures and Subgroups; Leadership Is an Ethos-determined Variable; The Puritan Ethic and Its Challengers; Leadership Is a Politically Determined Variable; Leadership Is a Societally Determined Variable; Leadership Is a Philosophically Determined Variable; Concepts of Man; Concepts in Action; Leadership Is a Technologically Determined Variable; Leadership Is an Organizationally Determined Variable; Analyzing and Navigating the Organizational Force Field; Leadership Is a Skill-Mix-Determined Variable

5 Micro Factors 68

The Leader's View of the Management Process; Strategies in Managing; The Manager-Leader's Concept of His Role; How the Manager and His Superiors See Each Other; How the Manager and His People See Each Other; How the Manager Sees His Lateral Relationships; The Manager's Self-Concepts; The Manager-Leader's Attitudes

6 Organizational Realities 85

The Authority System; The Manager-Leader's Attitudes Toward Authority; The Power System; Types of Power; Handling the Authority and Power Systems; The Group System; The Impact of the Work Group on Its Members; The Work Group's Effect on Productivity; Implications of Group Influences for the Manager; The Role System; Handling Role Pressures; The Status System

7 Selecting a Managerial Leadership Pattern 105

Manager First—Leader Second; Leadership Is the Lever; Unproductive Leadership Patterns; Productive Leadership Patterns; Insuring the Fit of a Leadership Pattern; Selecting the Proper Leadership Behavior

8 Understanding Subordinates 124

Understanding Human Needs; The Psychological Needs; The Social Needs; Making the Most of Human Needs

9 Motivating Subordinates 140

Why the Gap Between Theory and Practice? The Manager's Side; The Behaviorists' Side; Bridging the Gap; The Miscellany That Is Motivation; Prescientific Motivation Techniques; Some Contributions of Behavioral Sciences; Guiding Principles for the Manager-Leader; Implementing Motivational Principles; Problems of Job Satisfaction and Morale

10 Cooperating Through Communicating 159

Communication: The Mechanical Process; Communication: The Human Process; A Human Transaction; An Intellectual Transaction; A Psychological Transaction; An Environmental Transaction; What Can the Manager-Leader Do? The Art of Listening; The Art of Asking Questions; Fitting the Question to the Quest; Making the Meeting Productive

11 Developing Subordinates 178

Setting Achievement Targets; Benefits for the Subordinate; Benefits for the Organization; Establishing Achievement Targets; Cautions; Coaching; Some Counseling Principles and Possible Approaches; Legitimate Counseling Problems for the Manager-Leader; Delegating; What Should Be Delegated? How to Delegate; Performance Reviews; Performance Reviews Versus Development Reviews; Conducting the Performance Review

12 Coping with Tensions 199

Problems of Stress; Frustration and Conflict; The Adjustment Process; How Effective a Solution? Aggression as an Adjustment Mechanism; Adjustment by Flight; Adjustment by Self-Deception; Behind the Facade of Success; Coping with Fear and Worry; The Well-Adjusted Manager-Leader

13 Business Ethics 219

Ethics or Legislation? Ethics as a Science; Theories of Ethics; Possible Sources of Ethics; A Way out of the Ethical Woods; Ethics and Human Conduct; Moral Knowledge or Moral Courage? Problems of Social Responsibility; Models for Corporate Conduct; Where Does This Leave the Manager-Leader?

14 The Manager-Leader: Catalyst for Change 238

Performance, Creativity, and Innovation; Why Aren't People More Innovative? The Organization's Philosophy; The Personality of the Worker; Pressures from Peers; Actualizing the Potential for Innovation; Organizational Renewal; An Illustrative Case of Organizational Renewal; Other Studies of Less Drastic Changes; Suggestions for the Manager-Leader