

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. : 37.516
Abstell-Nr. : A28/1427
Sachgebiete : 5.3
00252966

International Marketing

^{istina}
V. H. Kirpalani

Concordia University

Random House Business Division

New York

Contents in Brief

Introduction: Scope and Objectives 3

PART ONE:

Global Marketplace Environment and Its Participants 7

1	Geopolitics, Interdependence, and History	9
2	World Economy, International Market Size, and Causes of Growth	28
3	International Marketplace: MNCs and Other Major Participants	57
4	Cultural Environment: Attitudes, Practices, and Ethics	90	✓
5	Politics, Law, and Technology Protection	116
6	Regional Integration and Global Trade Protectionism	143
7	Understanding the International Monetary System	165

PART TWO:

International Marketing Opportunities 189

8	International Marketing Opportunities in Developed Countries	191
9	International Marketing Opportunities in LDCs	218

PART THREE:

International Marketing: Information, Strategy, Organization, and Planning 249

10	International Marketing Information: Systems and Research	251
11	International Marketing Strategy and Entry Methods	284
12	Organization, Planning, and Control	319

PART FOUR:

International Marketing Program Management 351

13	Product Policy	353
14	Promotion Policy: Advertising, Other Forms, and the Sales Force	384
15	Channels Policy and Physical Distribution	434
16	Moving Products Across Borders: Pricing, Money, and Barter	466
17	Epilogue	502

PART FIVE:

Cases 511

Name Index	651
Subject Index	658

Detailed Contents

Introduction: Scope and Objectives 3

PART ONE:

Global Marketplace Environment and Its Participants 7

Chapter 1: Geopolitics, Interdependence, and History 9

Geopolitics 10
Global Interdependence 22
History and Antecedents 24
Summary and Conclusions 25

Chapter 2: World Economy, International Market Size, and Causes of Growth 28

World Economy 29
International Marketplace Size: Goods 33
International Marketplace Size: Services 40
International Marketing: Causes of Growth and Benefits 47
Summary and Conclusions 54

Chapter 3: International Marketplace: MNCs and Other Major Participants 57

Private Sector MNCs 58
Multinational Banks and Insurers 71
MNCs: Nation State and Labor Response 72
International Trading Companies 78
State-Owned Enterprises 82
Export Management Companies 83
Implications for International Marketing Management 85
Summary and Conclusions 85

Chapter 4: Cultural Environment: Attitudes, Practices, and Ethics 90

Culture: International Environment 91
Cultural Attitudes and International Marketing 100
Cultural Facets and Selected Business Practices 103
Bribery 106
Summary and Conclusions 112

Chapter 5:	Politics, Law, and Technology Protection	116
	Politics and Nationalism	117
	International Marketing and the Law	125
	International Law and Technology Protection	133
	Industrial Espionage	138
	Summary and Conclusions	140
Chapter 6:	Regional Integration and Global Trade Protectionism	143
	Regional Integration	144
	General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade	148
	International Trading Framework	157
	Dumping	158
	Summary and Conclusions	162
Chapter 7:	Understanding the International Monetary System	165
	Balance of Payments	167
	International Monetary Fund	174
	European Monetary System	181
	Aid for Development	182
	Summary and Conclusions	186

PART TWO:
International Marketing Opportunities 189

Chapter 8:	International Marketing Opportunities in Developed Countries	191
	North America and Western Europe	191
	Japan	209
	The U.S.S.R. and Its Satellites	211
	Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa	213
	Summary and Conclusions	215
Chapter 9:	International Marketing Opportunities in LDCs	218
	Overview	219
	Commodities: Importance and Market Power	223
	Opec	229
	Latin America	232
	Caribbean	236
	Middle East Oil Importers and Africa	237
	South Asia	240
	China	244
	Summary and Conclusions	245

PART THREE:International Marketing: Information, Strategy, Organization, and Planning 249

Chapter 10:	International Marketing Information: Systems and Research	251
	International Marketing Information Systems	252
	International Marketing Research: Introduction	256
	Cross-National Consumer Research	259
	International Surveys: Sources of Error	263
	Attitudinal Differences Between the U.S. and Some Other Cultures	266
	Export Marketing Research and Secondary Data Sources	269
	International Market Potential Assessment	271
	Marketing Research for Eastern Europe	277
	Summary and Conclusions	278
Chapter 11:	International Marketing Strategy and Entry Methods	284
	Governments and MNCs: Aspects Influencing Strategy	285
	International Marketing Strategy	289
	Strategy Formulation	301
	Methods of Entry	303
	Ownership and Contractual Arrangements	304
	Exporting	312
	Summary and Conclusions	314
Chapter 12:	Organization, Planning, and Control	319
	Organization	319
	Planning	329
	Control	340
	Planning and Control: Other Problems	345
	Summary and Conclusions	347

PART FOUR:International Marketing Program Management 351

Chapter 13:	Product Policy	353
	Introduction	353
	Product Positioning	356
	Product Standardization vs. Adaptation	363
	Brands, Trademarks, Warranties, Service, Packaging, Labeling	368
	International Marketing of Service Products	372
	International Marketing of Technology	377
	Summary and Conclusions	379

Chapter 14:	Promotion Policy: Advertising, Other Forms, and the Sales Force	384
	Promotion and Product Positioning	385
	Advertising Worldwide: An Overview	386
	Advertising in Selected Foreign Countries/Segments		392
	International Advertising: Standardization vs. Adaptation		397
	Developing International Advertising Strategy	399
	Management of the Advertising Function	404
	International Advertising Research	411
	Other Forms of Promotion	413
	Point-of-Purchase Promotion	417
	International Sales Forces and Their Management		421
	International Sales Forces: Selling Examples	425
	Summary and Conclusions	429
Chapter 15:	Channels Policy and Physical Distribution	434
	Distribution Channels: An Overview and Public Policy		435
	Managing International Distribution Channels	440
	Distribution Channels in Different Markets	445
	Multinational Retailers	451
	Multinational Wholesalers	456
	Unusual Distribution: How Debeers Dominates Diamonds		457
	Physical Distribution and Its Management	458
	Summary and Conclusions	462
Chapter 16:	Moving Products Across Borders: Pricing, Money, and Barter	466
	Export Pricing	467
	MNCs: Pricing Policies	475
	Tax Incentives	483
	Financial Policy for Profitable International Marketing		486
	Government Support: Finance and Foreign Trade Zones		489
	Barter as a Vehicle	493
	Foreign Aid Finance Markets	497
	Summary and Conclusions	498
Chapter 17:	Epilogue	502
	Prospects and Trends in the Global Marketplace		502
	Geopolitics and Interdependence	505
	International Marketing Management: Research and Information Needs	507
	Summary and Conclusions	508

PART FIVE:
Cases 511

Alpha 55	513
Boxfil, Ltd.: The Internationalization Process	521
CANAC Distribution Ltd.: Sea-Wing Service (A)	523
The Citrus Marketing Board: Introducing Changes into an International Distribution System	536
Communications Satellite Earth Stations	543
Computrex Corporation (A)	548
Finlandia Glassware Inc.	557
Goodyear Tyre and Rubber Company: Selecting an Advertising Spokesman for TSGB	560
Graphic Communications, Inc.	570
Harvey's Appliances, Ltd.	575
Medopharm GmbH	582
Metro Corporation: Licensing Negotiations for Petroleum Tank Technology	594
Minneapolis Foods Joint Venture in Guatemala	598
The Chocolate Division, Nestlé Products Limited	603
The Penax Company in Southern Africa	611
Pestaway, Inc.	617
Port of Portland: The Big Monday Morning Headache or Speaking of Non-Tariff Barriers	630
Tourism in Sri Lanka	634
Ulker Biscuits, Inc.	645
Name Index	651
Subject Index	658	