

Strategic Cost Analysis

The Evolution from Managerial to Strategic Accounting

John K. Shank

Vijay Govindarajan

*both of Amos Tuck School of Business Administration
Dartmouth College*

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT
Fachbereich 1
Gesamtbibliothek
Betriebswirtschaftslehre
Inventar-Nr. :	42.536
Abstell-Nr. :	A20/M52
Sachgebiete:	1.2.0
	2.1

00201094

1989

IRWIN

Homewood, IL 60430

Boston, MA 02116

Contents

PART I

New Applications of Familiar Cost Concepts

- | | | |
|---|--|----|
| 1 | Making Strategy Explicit in Cost Analysis: The Baldwin Bicycle Case Study | 3 |
| 2 | Sheridan Carpets—Basic Cost Analysis Concepts Revisited Through a Strategic Lens | 22 |

PART II

New Concepts in Cost Analysis

- | | | |
|---|--|----|
| 3 | Concepts in Value Chain Analysis: The ‘Famous’ Crown Cork and Seal Company Case | 39 |
| 4 | The Ajax Manufacturing Company—The Perils of Cost Allocation Based on Production Volumes | 60 |
| 5 | Transaction-Based Costing for the Complex Product Line: A Field Study | 76 |

PART III

Differentiated Controls for Differentiated Strategies

- | | | |
|---|---|-----|
| 6 | Kinkead Equipment Company, Ltd.—Profit Variance Analysis with a Strategic Focus | 95 |
| 7 | The Trubrite Dyes Case—Differentiating Cost Analysis and Control Depending on the Strategy Being Followed | 114 |

PART IV

Strategic Financial Analysis Which Isn’t

- | | | |
|---|--|-----|
| 8 | Strategic Financial Analysis for Long-Term Major Investments | 131 |
|---|--|-----|