

FEMALE "CIRCUMCISION" IN AFRICA

---

CULTURE, CONTROVERSY, AND CHANGE

edited by
Bettina Shell-Duncan
Ylva Hernlund

BOULDER
LONDON

---

Contents

---

Preface	vii
1 Female “Circumcision” in Africa: Dimensions of the Practice and Debates Bettina Shell-Duncan and Ylva Hernlund	1
2 Is Female “Circumcision” a Maladaptive Cultural Pattern? Ellen Gruenbaum	41
3 To Marry and Bear Children? The Demographic Consequences of Infibulation in Sudan Deborah Balk	55
4 Female “Circumcision” Among the Yoruba of Southwestern Nigeria: The Beginning of Change I. O. Orubuloye, Pat Caldwell, and John C. Caldwell	73
5 Female Genital Cutting in Nigeria: Views of Nigerian Doctors on the Medicalization Debate Mairo Usman Mandara	95
6 Women Without Choices: The Debate over Medicalization of Female Genital Cutting and Its Impact on a Northern Kenyan Community Bettina Shell-Duncan, Walter Obungu Obiero, and Leunita Auko Muruli	109
7 “Ngaitana (I Will Circumcise Myself)”: Lessons from Colonial Campaigns to Ban Excision in Meru, Kenya Lynn Thomas	129

8	Revisiting Feminist Discourses on Infibulation: Responses from Sudanese Feminists Rogaia Mustafa Abusharaf	151
9	Adopting Female “Circumcision” in Southern Chad: The Experience of Myabé Lori Leonard	167
10	Handing over the Knife: Numu Women and the Campaign Against Excision in Mali Claudie Gosselin	193
11	Becoming a Muslim, Becoming a Person: Female “Circumcision,” Religious Identity, and Personhood in Guinea-Bissau Michelle C. Johnson	215
12	Cutting Without Ritual and Ritual Without Cutting: Female “Circumcision” and the Re-ritualization of Initiation in the Gambia Ylva Hernlund	235
13	Female Genital Cutting: The Beginning of the End Gerry Mackie	253
14	Rites and Wrongs: An Insider/Outsider Reflects on Power and Excision Fuambai Ahmadu	283
	Bibliography	313
	The Contributors	331
	Index	333
	About the Book	349