

THE MIGRATORY CHAIN

BevL/CHA

ORGANISATION FOR ECONOMIC
CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

CONTENTS

Chapter I

INTRODUCTION .....	5
1. The concept of the migratory chain.....	5
2. The OECD background and the components of the present exercise.....	6

Chapter II

INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION AND ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION BETWEEN SENDING AND RECEIVING COUNTRIES.....	8
1. Development of migratory movements.....	8
2. The interdependence of the economies of sending and receiving countries.....	13

Chapter III

A REVIEW OF ELEMENTS OF A BETTER ORGANISED MIGRATORY CHAIN, BASED ON THE EXAMPLES OF VARIOUS COUNTRIES.....	26
1. Towards a productive use of workers' remittances.....	26
2. A closer co-operation between employment services in sending and receiving countries.....	31
3. Programmes for selective return migration.....	33
4. The transfer of production capacity from receiving to sending countries.....	37
5. Regional development as an alternative to emigration.....	41
6. Classifying emigration countries as development assistance countries.....	42
7. Sources of financing for return migration, employment creation and regional development in sending countries.....	44
8. Some tentative conclusions as to the general applicability of the examples.....	48

Chapter IV

TOWARDS A NEW MODEL FOR JOINT ACTION BY RECEIVING
AND SENDING COUNTRIES..... 50

1. The need for a new strategy..... 50

2. The institutional framework..... 51

ANNEX

LIST OF DOCUMENTATION..... 53