
Promotional Strategy

JAMES F. ENGEL

Graduate School, Wheaton College (Illinois)

HUGH G. WALES

Roosevelt University

MARTIN R. WARSHAW

The University of Michigan

TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT

Fachbereich 1

Gesamtbibliothek

Betriebswirtschaftslehre

Inventar-Nr. : 17. 176

Abstell-Nr. : A.30 | 180

Sachgebiete: 52.4.1

00266.277

THIRD EDITION · 1975

RICHARD D. IRWIN, INC. Homewood, Illinois 60430

Irwin-Dorsey Limited, Georgetown, Ontario L7G 4B3

Contents

part one Overview

1

1. Introduction

3

What this Book Is All About. Marketing Management: The Environment for Marketing Efforts. Factors Internal to the Firm. The Marketing Mix. Comparative Marketing Strategies. Results. Information Feedback. The Danger of Viewing Promotion in Isolation.

2. The Nature of Communication

20

The Fundamentals of Communication: Interpersonal Communication. Mass Communication. Interpersonal versus Mass Communication. Communication in Marketing: Isolation of Market Segments. Selection of Communication Media. Design of the Persuasive Message. Feedback of Response. The Paradox.

3. Promotional Strategy: An Overview

35

The Stages in Promotional Planning and Strategy: Situation Analysis. Establishment of Promotional Objectives. Determination of Budget. Management of Program Elements. Coordination and Integration of Efforts. Measurement of Effectiveness. Evaluation and Follow-up. Max-Pax Ground Coffee Filter Rings: A Case History. A Look Ahead.

part two Situation Analysis

53

4. Demand: Audience Response to Persuasion

55

Consumer Information Processing: The Filtering Process. Processing the Promotional Message: Exposure. Attention. Comprehension. Retention. Subliminal Perception.

5.	Demand: The Social Environment	74
	The Cultural Context: The Significance of a Cross-Cultural Perspective. Cross-Cultural Marketing Research. The American Culture. Subcultures: Buying Patterns. Communication Behavior. Purchasing Patterns. Social Class: Measurement of Social Class. Social Classes in America. The Marketing Significance of Social Class. Reference Groups: Reference Groups and Attitude Change. Adapting to Reference Group Influence.
6.	Demand: Attitudes and Personality	97
	Attitudes: Attitude Organization. Evaluative Criteria. Attitude Measurement. Assessment of Attitude Strength. Using Attitude Analysis in Promotional Strategy. Personality: Demographic Characteristics. Psychographic Characteristics.
7.	Demand: Audience Decision Processes	120
	Problem Recognition: Determinants of Problem Recognition. The Implications for Promotional Strategy. Search Processes: Determinants of External Search. Information Sources. Purchase Processes: Postpurchase Evaluation. Habitual Decision Process Behavior. Family Influences on the Decision Process: Effects on the Individual. Family Role Structures.
8.	The Legal Environment for Promotion	146
	Pertinent Legislation: Federal Legislation. State and Local Regulation. Important Areas of Regulation: Content of Advertisements. Type of Product Advertised. Vertical Cooperative Advertising. Advertising and Competition. The Howard Report.
part three
	Determination of Objectives and Budget	165
9.	Promotional Objectives	167
	Using the Situation Analysis to Determine Objectives: Nonusers of Product Category. Users of Product and Company Brand. Application of the Analysis Procedure. Setting the Objectives: Current Business Practice. Communication versus Sales Objectives. Criteria of Workable Objectives. The Process of Setting Objectives. Problems in Determination of Objectives. Implications of Objective Setting. Geographic Allocation: Corollary Products Index. Market Surveys. Test Markets. Industry Sales. General Buying Power Indexes. Custom-Made Indexes.
10.	The Promotional Budget	192
	Theoretical Foundations of the Budgeting Problem. Traditional Approaches to Budgeting: Arbitrary Allocation. Percentage of Sales. Return on Investment. Competitive Parity. All You Can Afford. Objective and Task. Conclusions on Approaches to Budgeting. Implementing the Task and Objective Approach: Isolation of Objectives. Expenditure Estimation through Built-Up Analysis. Comparison against Industry Percentage of Sales Guidelines. Comparison against Projected Percentage of Future Sales.

Reconciliation of Divergences between Built-Up Costs and Percentage of Sales Figures. Payout Planning. Modification of Estimates in Terms of Company Policies. Specification of When Expenditures Will Be Made. Building in Flexibility. Comments on the Suggested Approach. Budgeting for New Products: Payout Planning. New-Product Models. Appendix: Application of Quantitative Methods.

part four

Management of Advertising Efforts

231

11. Analysis of Mass Media Resources

233

Expenditure Trends. Newspapers: Characteristics of Newspapers. Buying Newspaper Space. The Future of Newspapers. Television: General Characteristics of Television. The Network Television Program. Buying Network Time. Spot Announcements. Buying Spot Time. The Future of Television. Radio: Characteristics of Radio. The Future of Radio. Magazines: Characteristics of Magazines. The Future of Magazines. Outdoor Advertising: Characteristics of Outdoor Advertising. Purchasing Outdoor Space. The Future of Outdoor Advertising. Transit Advertising: Characteristics of Transit Advertising. Purchasing Transit Space. The Future of Transit. The Noncommissionable Media: Direct Mail. Point-of-Purchase Advertisements. Advertising Specialties.

12. Media Strategy

271

The Requirements of Creative Strategy. Reaching the Proper Audience: Media Audience Data. Reach and Frequency: The Problem of Audience Duplication. Using Reach, Frequency, and GRP Measures. Competitive Considerations. Cost Considerations. Qualitative Media Characteristics. Distribution Requirements. Scheduling: Geographical Scheduling. Seasonal Scheduling. Flighting. Scheduling within Media. Computer Models in Media Selection: Linear Programming. Iteration Models. Simulation. The Role of the Computer in Media Strategy.

13. The Advertising Message

306

Creative Strategy: Definition of Market Target. Statement of Message Content. Creative Execution: Trends in Advertising: The Quest for Decision Rules. The Rush to the Behavioral Sciences. A Balanced Contemporary Approach. Implications of Trends in Advertising. Analysis of the Message: Judgmental Analysis. Copy Testing.

14. Measurement of Advertising Effectiveness

330

Advertising-Related Laboratory Measures: Analysis of Readability. HRB-Singer: Measurement of Visual Efficiency. The Eye Camera. The Tachistoscope. Binocular Rivalry. GSR/PDR. Salivation. The Consumer Jury. Portfolio Tests. Product-Related Laboratory Measures: The Schwerin Test. Trailer Tests. Laboratory Stores. Advertising-Related Measurement under Real-World Conditions: Dummy Advertising Vehicles. Inquiry Tests:

On-the-Air-Tests. Recognition Tests. Recall Tests. Association Measures. Combination Measures.
 Product-Related Measures under Real-World Conditions: Pre-Post Tests. Sales Tests. Mini-Market Tests.

part five

Personal Selling, Reseller Support, and Supplemental Communications

363

15. Using Personal Selling Resources

365

Personal Selling—A Communication Process: Modified Interpersonal Communication Model. Implications of the Communication Process. The Nature of the Personal Selling Task: Functions of the Salesman. Basic Sales Tasks. Determining the Proper Sales Tasks. Building the Sales Force: Job Descriptions and Recruitment. Selecting Salesmen. Training Salesmen. Sales Force Management—Compensation and Motivation: Compensating Salesmen. Motivating Salesmen. Methods of Communication. Patterns of Organization for Sales.

16. Evaluation and Control of Sales Force Efforts

393

Purposes of Evaluation. Information Needs. The Evaluation and Control Process: Developing Performance Standards. Standards of Measurement of Performance. Comparing Salesmen's Performance to Standards. Corrective Action. Reallocation of Effort: A Case History.

17. Resellers as Promotional Resources

411

The Channel of Distribution: Channel Length. Intensity of Distribution. Channel Control. Wholesalers as Promotional Resources: Classification of Wholesalers. Wholesaler Performance of the Selling Function. Factors Influencing Wholesaler's Ability to Sell. Economic Role of the Wholesaler. Factors Influencing Wholesaler's Allocation of Selling Effort. Retailers as Promotional Resources: Classification of Retailers. Selling Effort at Retail. Factors Affecting Retailer Ability to Sell. Factors Affecting Retailer Willingness to Sell. Conclusion.

18. Price, Margin, and Inventory Policies

437

The Promotional Role of Resellers: Adjustment of the Promotional Mix. Product Evolution. Implications of Resellers' Promotional Role. Distribution Policies and the Problem of Reseller Competition: Market Segregation. Selective Distribution. Price and Margin Policies: Channel Pricing. Pricing to Reduce Channel Overlap. Intrachannel Effects of Pricing Policy. Setting Reseller Discounts. Implications of Price and Margin Policies. Inventory Policies: Stock-Level Policies. Returned-Goods Policies.

19. Stimulating Reseller Support: Improving, Supplementing, and Controlling Performance

460

Improving Reseller Performance: Training Reseller Salesmen. Quotas for Resellers. Advertising and Sales Promotion Assistance. Supplementing Re-seller Performance: Missionary (Specialty) Selling. Display and Selling Aids. Consumer Deals. Controlling Reseller Performance: Selected Resellers. Nonselected Resellers. Vertical Integration.

20. Supplemental Communications 488

Public Relations: Internal Communications. External Communications. Case Histories of Successful Public Relations. The Image of Public Relations. Sales Promotion: Packaging. Trade Fairs and Exhibitions. Sampling. Premiums and Trading Stamps. Price Incentives.

part six

Coordinating and Integrating the Promotional Program 509

21. Organization of the Promotional Program 511

Organizational Requirements and Structures: The Requirements of a Modern Marketing Organization. Organizational Structure. Using Outside Services: Media-Buying Services. Creative Boutiques. Research Services. Consultants. Advertising Agencies: The Traditional Full-Service Agency. The Emerging Advertising Agency. Development of a Productive Working Relationship.

22. Coordination, Evaluation, and Follow-Up 528

Coordination of Program Elements: The Kahala Hilton: A Case History. PERT: A Method for Coordinating Campaign Elements. Evaluation and Follow-Up: Assessment of Results against Objectives. Postmortem Appraisal. Assignment of Accountability. Assessment of Future Implications.

part seven

Epilogue 549

23. The Economic and Social Dimensions of Promotional Strategy 551

Promotion in a Free Enterprise Economy: Effects on Consumer Behavior. Effects on New Products and Price. Effects on Competition and Market Structure. The Validity of the Fundamental Premises. The Dilemma of a System in Crisis: Is Social Revolution Necessary? Can the Present System Be Made to Work? Organizational Response to a Changed Environment. The Organizational Mission. Cooperative Efforts. The Individual Manager. Will Voluntary Self-Regulation Work? Conclusion: A Personal Note.

Appendix. Designing and Producing the Mass Communication Message 577

Index 619