

MEDICEAN AND SAVONAROLAN FLORENCE:

The Interplay of Politics, Humanism, and Religion

by

Alison Brown

BREPOLS

CONTENTS

List of Tables	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
List of Abbreviations	xiii
Introduction	xv

Part I. Life and Politics in Late Laurentian Florence

Chapter 1: Lorenzo de' Medici's New Men and Their Mores	I
Chapter 2: Women, Children, and Politics in the Letters of Ser Pace di Bambello	39
Chapter 3: The Early Years of Piero di Lorenzo: Between Florentine Citizen and Medici Prince	67
Chapter 4: Lorenzo and Public Opinion in Florence: The Problem of Opposition	87

Part II. Revolution and the Crisis of Republicanism

Chapter 5: The Revolution of 1494 in Florence and its Aftermath	115
---	-----

Chapter 6: Offices of Honour and Profit: The Crisis of Republicanism in Florence	139
Chapter 7: Insiders and Outsiders: The Changing Boundaries of Exile	177
Chapter 8: Ideology and Faction in Savonarolan Florence	201

Part III. Politics, Humanism, and Religion

Chapter 9: De-masking Renaissance Republicanism	225
Chapter 10: The Language of Empire	247
Chapter 11: New Light on the Papal Condemnation of Pico's Theses	263
Chapter 12: Intellectual and Religious Currents in the Post-Savonarola Years	279
Bibliography	303
Index	311