

How to Manage Change Effectively

| | |
|---------------------------------|-----------|
| TECHNISCHE HOCHSCHULE DARMSTADT | |
| Fachbereich 1 | |
| Gesamtbibliothek | |
| Betriebswirtschaftslehre | |
| Inventar-Nr. : | 37.332 |
| Abstell-Nr. : | A 12/1361 |
| Sachgebiete : | 1.3.0.1 |

Jossey-Bass Publishers

San Francisco • London • 1985

Contents

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
| Foreword | ix |
| Preface | xi |
| The Author | xxi |
| Pretest: A Self-Assessment of Change Management Knowledge | 1 |
| Part I: Approaches to Managing Change | 7 |
| 1. The Changes Managers Face | 9 |
| 2. The Manager's Role | 19 |
| 3. Philosophies, Principles, and Approaches from Authorities in the Field | 29 |
| The Leader's Role in Managing Change, Thomas R. Bennett III Establishing Acceptable Norms, Robert Blake, Jane S. Mouton Transformative Change, Karen W. Buckley, Dani Perkins Rewards and Punishment Related to Change, Elmer H. Burack, Florence Torda Obtaining Commitment to Change, Daryl H. Conner, Robert Patterson Changes in People, Paul Hersey, Kenneth H. Blanchard | |

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|
| Gaining Acceptance and Commitment to Planned Change, Ronald Lippitt | |
| Organizational Behavior Modification, Fred Luthans, Walter S. Maciag, Stuart A. Rosenkrantz | |
| Guides for Managing Change, Newton Margulies, John Wallace | |
| A System for Managing Change, George Odiorne | |
| Steps in Adopting Change, Everett M. Rogers | |
| A Process for Managing Change, Lyle Schaller | |
| 4. Why People Resist or Welcome Change | 85 |
| Part II: Methods for Managing Change | 99 |
| 5. A Step-by-Step Change Model | 101 |
| 6. Empathy: The First Key to Successful Change | 112 |
| 7. Communication: The Second Key to Successful Change | 118 |
| 8. Participation: The Third Key to Successful Change | 133 |
| 9. Applying the Three Keys | 151 |
| Part III: Case Examples of Successful Change | 167 |
| 10. Moving into a New Managerial Job | 171 |
| 11. Establishing Variable Work Hours | 184 |
| 12. Improving Productivity Through Work Design | 195 |
| 13. Successfully Implementing Quality Circles | 209 |
| 14. Getting More Productivity from the Last Hour of Work | 217 |
| 15. Gaining Acceptance for a New Incentive System | 224 |

| | |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Contents | xix |
| 16. Converting from a “Batch” to a “Just-in-Time” Production Process | 233 |
| 17. Reorganizing the Sales Force | 242 |
| 18. Instituting New Training Programs | 249 |
| Summary: How to Be an Effective Change Manager | 255 |
| Posttest: A Self-Assessment of Change Management Knowledge | 258 |
| Answers to Pretest and Posttest | 263 |
| References | 273 |
| Index | 276 |