Statistics

Concepts and Controversies

David S. Moore
Purdue University

W. H. Freeman and Company
San Francisco

Contents

To the Teacher xi

Introduction xiii

I

Collecting Data 1

1. Sampling 3

1. The Need for Sampling Design 5 2. Simple Random Sampling 7 3. Population Information From a Sample 11 4. Sampling Can Go Wrong 18 5. More on Sampling Design 23 6. Opinion Polls and the Political Process 28 7. Random Selection as Public Policy 32 8. Some Ethical Questions 35 Exercises 38

2. Experimentation 56

1. The Need for Experimental Design 58 2. First Steps in Statistical Design of Experiments 61 3. Difficulties in Experimentation 68 4. More on Experimental Design 74 5. Social Experiments 78 6. Ethics and Experimentation 82 Exercises 88

3. Measurement 100

1. First Steps in Measurement: Validity 101 2. Accuracy in Measurement 106 3. Scales of Measurement 110 4. Looking at Data Intelligently 112 Exercises 120

II
Organizing Data 129

4. Tables, Graphs, and Distributions 131

1. Frequency Tables 131 2. Graphs 136 3. Sampling Distributions and the Normal Curves 146 Exercises 150

5. Descriptive Statistics: Few Numbers in Place of Many 159

1. Measuring Center or Average 159 2. Measuring Spread or Variability 166 3. More on the Normal Distributions 170 4. Measuring Association 177 5. Association, Prediction, and Causation 184 Exercises 192

6. The Consumer Price Index and Its Neighbors 207

1. Index Numbers 207 2. The Consumer Price Index 211 3. Economic and Social Indicators 216 4. Interpreting Time Series 221 Exercises 226

III
Drawing Conclusions From Data 235

7. Probability: The Study of Randomness 237

1. What is Probability? 239 2. Finding Probabilities by Simulation 246 3. State Lotteries and Expected Values 254 Exercises 260

8. Formal Statistical Reasoning 269

1. Estimating with Confidence 270 2. Confidence Intervals for Proportions and Means 277 3. Statistical Significance 283 4. Use and Abuse of Tests of Significance 290 5. Inference as Decision 295 Exercises 299

Table A Random Digits 308

Table B Square Roots 309

Index 311