

CALAIS
AN ENGLISH TOWN IN FRANCE
1347-1558

Susan Rose

THE BOYDELL PRESS

CONTENTS

List of illustrations	vii
Abbreviations	viii
Preface	ix
Introduction:	i
England and France in the mid fourteenth century
1 The siege and capture of the town: Edward III and the burghers of Calais	7
2 A new ruler and a new regime: the town and the garrison in the early years of English rule	23
3 Setting up the Staple: a new role for Calais	39
4 Triumph and disaster: Henry V, the collapse of the Anglo-Burgundian alliance and the resurgence of France	54
5 Calais as a base for political intrigue: Yorkists, Lancastrians and the earl of Warwick	73
6 The heyday of the Company of the Staple: merchants and their lives	95
7 Religious and political change: Henry VII, Henry VIII and the Reformation	112
8 The town and trade: the later fortunes of the Company of the Staple and of the Johnson partnership	134
9 The end of the story: the loss of Calais to the French	153
Conclusion	172
Bibliography	175
Index	183