

Contents

Editors' Preface	vii
1. Introduction: De Galle and Gaullism in France's Cold War Foreign Policy Mark Kramer	1
Part I: Europe
2. De Gaulle, French Diplomacy, and Franco–Soviet Relations as Seen from Moscow Marie-Pierre Rey	25
3. A “Cordial Potentiality?” De Gaulle and the Franco–German Partnership, 1963–1969 Carine Germond	43
4. From Words to Actions: Reinterpreting de Gaulle's European Policy Piers Ludlow	63
Part II: Transatlantia
5. NATO Strategies toward de Gaulle's France, 1958–1966: Learning to Cope Anna Locher and Christian Nuenlist	85
6. Dealing with de Gaulle: The United States and France Carolyn Davidson	111

7.	Britain, de Gaulle's NATO Policies, and Anglo-French Rivalry, 1963-1967 James Ellison	135
Part III: Asia
8.	The U.S. Escalation in Vietnam and de Gaulle's Secret Search for Peace, 1964-1966 Yuko Torikata	155
9.	Seeking a Multipolar World: China and de Gaulle's France Qiang Zhai	181
10.	A Hot Summer: France, Israel, and the Middle East Crisis in 1958 Gadi Heimann	203
Part IV: Africa and Latin America
11.	" Je ne vous ai pas compris ": De Gaulle's Decade of Negotiation with the Algerian FLN, 1958-1969 Jeffrey James Byrne	225
12.	De Gaulle and Sub-Saharan Africa: From Decolonization to French Development Policy, 1958-1963 Guia Migani	251
13.	The Hero on the Latin American Scene Joaquín Fernandois	271
14.	Conclusion: A Gaullist Grand Strategy? Garret Martin	291
	Index	309
	About the Contributors	315