
ENTERPRISE

The Dynamic Economy of a Free People

Stuart Bruchey

Harvard University Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England
1990

Contents

1	The Road to Jamestown	1
2	The Promised Land	34
3	A Growing People	67
4	Independence	105
5	The Early American Industrial Revolution	137
6	Money and Banking before the Civil War	165
7	Values, Law, and the Developing Economy	193
8	The Agricultural Republic	222
9	In the Wake of the Civil War	254
10	Three Frontiers	281
11	The Maturing of American Industry	308
12	Workers in Industry	350
13	Mostly Foreign Affairs	381
14	The Undertow of Prosperity	399
15	Coping with the Great Depression	442
16	The Second Great War and Its Aftermath	473
17	From Recent Times to the Present and Future	496
	Abbreviations	543
	Notes	545
	Index	625

Tables

1. Characteristics of colonial population, 1700–1790.	69
2. Import-export prices and the terms of trade, 1770–1792.	115
3. United States manufactures, 1860.	153
4. The regional distribution of national product and the rates of growth of regional product and regional product per capita, 1839–1859.	163
5. The sectoral distribution of value added: 1839, 1849, 1859.	163
6. The volume of business of the First Bank of the United States and its branches: financial position at or near year's end, 1792–1800.	173
7. Wholesale price indexes for all commodities, 1790–1860.	183
8. Banking statistics for selected years, 1815–1860.	184
9. Expenditures by state governments on social overhead and transportation, 1820–1860.	219
10. Acquisition of public domain, 1784–1853.	223
11. United States cotton exports, 1784–1860.	229
12. Percentage share of individual states in United States cotton production, 1791–1859.	231
13. Regional distribution of population as percentage of total United States population, 1790–1860.	233
14. Personal income per capita in each region as percentage of United States average income, 1840 and 1860.	234
15. Distribution of slaveholding families according to number of slaves held, 1790 and 1850.	239
16. Per capita income by region, 1840 and 1860.	249
17. Manufacturing investment and output by region, 1850 and 1860.	251
18. Percentage of population living in urban areas, 1820–1860.	251
19. U.S. federal government deficit and financing, 1861–1865.	259
20. Immigration into the United States, 1870–1910.	261
21. Number of United States cities, by size, 1870–1910.	263
22. Percentage of total United States population living in urban places of various sizes, 1870–1910.	264
23. Regional percentages of urban population in the United States, 1870–1910.	265
24. Percent urban of the native white, foreign-born white, and black population in the United States, by region, 1870–1910.	266

25. Regional distribution of urban and rural population of the United States as a whole and of the native white, foreign-born white, and black populations, 1870–1910.
26. United States population by region, 1870–1910.
27. Changes in United States population, by region, 1870–1910.
28. Number of beef cattle in the United States as a whole and in the Great Plains region, 1860–1890.
29. Capital investment per plant in the United States, 1870–1900.
30. United States expenditures for formal education, 1840–1900.
31. Proportion of engineers and chemists in the labor force, 1890–1950.
32. Number of women employed in selected industries, 1870–1910.
33. Average growth rate of labor force by component of change, 1870–1910.
34. Characteristics of adult male foreign-born workers in mining and manufacturing occupations, 1909.
35. Death rates per 1,000 by occupational class and age interval in registration states (males only), 1890, 1900, and 1910.
36. Exports and imports of American merchandise, 1860–1920.
37. Gross national product and its chief components, 1919–1929.
38. Indexes of per capita personal income, by region, 1920 and 1930.
39. Price behavior during World War II.
40. Government expenditures for social security programs as a percentage of GNP: selected countries, 1957–1977.