

Martial: the unexpected classic

A literary and historical study

J. P. Sullivan

Cambridge University Press
Cambridge
New York Port Chester
Melbourne Sydney

CONTENTS

---

|   |         |
|---|---------|
| List of maps  | page ix |
| Preface and acknowledgements  | xi      |
| List of abbreviations   | xvii    |
| Introduction  | xxi     |
| I Martial's life and times  | I       |
| 1. Martial's origins and early career                               | I       |
| 2. Liber de spectaculis , Xenia and Apophoreta | 6       |
| 3. Books I and II: Martial's friends and patrons                    | 15      |
| 4. Setting the pattern  | 21      |
| 5. Was Martial married?   | 25      |
| 6. Martial's 'poverty'; Martial's politics                          | 26      |
| 7. Book III: Forum Corneliai  | 30      |
| 8. Books IV-IX: propaganda and history                              | 33      |
| 9. Books X-XI: the crisis: return to Spain                          | 44      |
| 10. Book XII: the poet in retirement: Martial's death               | 52      |
| 2 Martial's Apologia pro opere suo                           | 56      |
| 3 The epigram tradition: Martial's Greek and Latin models           | 78      |
| 1. Martial and the Greek epigram                                    | 78      |
| 2. The Latin epigram tradition                                      | 93      |
| 3. Martial and other Roman writers                                  | 100     |
| 4 The coherence of Martial's themes                                 | 115     |
| 1. Patronage and poetry: historical perspectives                    | 116     |
| 2. Imperial victories   | 130     |
| 3. The imperial cult  | 137     |
| 4. Domitian's social legislation                                    | 145     |
| 5. Flavian architecture and Martial's Rome                          | 147     |
| 6. Rich friends and patrons: Martial's Italy                        | 155     |
| 7. Martial's social attitudes: clients and legacy-hunting           | 159     |
| 8. Freedmen and slaves  | 162     |
| 9. Professions and trades: doctors and diseases                     | 166     |
| 10. The poet as subject   | 170     |

CONTENTS

|   |  |                 |
|---|--|-----------------|
|   | 11. Martial's homeland                                   | page 172 |
|   | 12. Martial's home town                                  | 181             |
| 5 | Martial's sexual attitudes                               | 185             |
|   | 1. General considerations                                | 185             |
|   | 2. Martial's misogyny                                    | 197             |
|   | 3. Boy love  | 207             |
| 6 | Humanity and humour; imagery and wit                     | 211             |
|   | 1. Evaluating Martial                                    | 211             |
|   | 2. Form, structure and metre                             | 217             |
|   | 3. Language and imagery                                  | 230             |
|   | 4. Wit and humour  | 237             |
|   | 5. 'Willing to wound': Martial's poetic ambivalence      | 250             |
| 7 | Survival and revival                                     | 253             |
|   | 1. Martial and later Latin literature                    | 253             |
|   | 2. The medieval period                                   | 260             |
|   | 3. The Renaissance: Martial and humanism                 | 262             |
|   | 4. Martial and the 'line of wit'                         | 270             |
|   | 5. Scholarship and censorship: 1550-1700                 | 291             |
|   | 6. The eighteenth century: enlightenment and romanticism | 295             |
|   | 7. The nineteenth century: text and taboo                | 300             |
|   | 8. Martial and the moderns                               | 306             |
|   | Appendix I Chronology                                    | 313             |
|   | Appendix II Martial and the Greek epigram                | 322             |
|   | Bibliography   | 328             |
|   | Index locorum  | 354             |
|   | General index  | 367             |