

GLOBALIZATION AND THE NEW WORLD ORDER

Promises, Problems, and Prospects for Africa in the Twenty-First Century

Edited by
FELIX MOSES EDOHO

PRAEGER

Westport, Connecticut
London

Contents

Illustrations	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
Abbreviations	xv
1. Overview: Africa in the Age of Globalization and the New World Order Felix Moses Edoho	1
I. Globalization and Marginalization: Toward an Understanding of the African Political Economy
2. Military Regimes and Africa's Economic Development Elizabeth A. Garbrah-Aidoo and Louis O. Osuji	27
3. Economic Instability and Africa's Marginal Role in the New World Order: A Study of Selected African Countries N. Frank Ekanem	47
4. The Political Economy of Resource Allocation and the Sustainability of Economic Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Berhanu Mengistu and Mtumwa Mfikirwa	61
5. Structural Adjustment and Persistence of Economic Crisis in Africa Louis O. Osuji	83

II. Globalization of Technology and New Environmental Ethics: Toward a Sustainable Development in Africa
6. International Technology Transfer in the Emerging Global Order: Transforming Africa in the Twenty-First Century Felix Moses Edoho	99
7. The African Environment and the Agenda 21 Concept: The Implications of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development 1992 Valentine Udoh James	125
8. African Resources, Environment, and International Development Assistance: Implications for Sustainable Development in the New World Order Babatunde Durosomo	141
III. Africa's Response to Globalization: Regional Cooperation and Economic Integration
9. Trade and Regional Cooperation Strategy for African Economic Development in the Twenty-First Century Emmanuel U. Nnadozie	157
10. Regional Trade Blocs and Economic Development: A Study of the West African Subregion Louis O. Osuji	171
IV. Globalization and the New World Order: Policy Options for Africa in the Twenty-First Century
11. Governance and Sustainable Development Policy: An Interpretive Analysis Berhanu Mengistu	183
12. Globalization and the New World Order: Toward an Inclusive Framework in the Twenty-First Century Felix Moses Edoho	197
Index	205
About the Editor and Contributors	213