

BUTHIELEZI

THE BIOGRAPHY

Jack Shepherd Smith

Hans Strydom Publishers

CONTENTS

Chapter 1.	The singing hills of Zululand	3
Chapter 2.	Ulundi and the resurgence of Zulu power	11
Chapter 3.	The history makers - Dingiswayo, Senzangakhona, Shaka, Buthelezi	21
Chapter 4.	For the Zulu Princess, duty before love	35
Chapter 5.	Man on a tightrope	45
Chapter 6.	The days of treading carefully	53
Chapter 7.	An awe-inspiring figure born to lead	63
Chapter 8.	Drama and intrigue as a king is crowned	71
Chapter 9.	The power of the bullet and the ballot	79
Chapter 10.	'They consider him to be dangerous'	85
Chapter 11.	Newsmaker of the Year and a trip to black Africa	93
Chapter 12.	The anvil on which apartheid will ultimately falter?	103
Chapter 13.	Buthelezi and the ANC connection	111
Chapter 14.	Inkatha: The voice and the muscle of black aspirations ..	123
Chapter 15.	'History is made by majorities, not minorities'	141
Chapter 16.	On the battle fields of Ulundi, a clash with P W Botha ..	149
Chapter 17.	The Buthelezi Commission	159
Chapter 18.	Blurring of the lines of racial tension	171
Chapter 19.	The year of Buthelezi and Ingwavuma	179
Chapter 20.	All those in favour of an 18th Century Voortrekker dream	187
Chapter 21.	The widening rift in black politics	197
Chapter 22.	A bold and imaginative plan for the future	207
Chapter 23.	California (and Boston) here I come	219
Chapter 24.	Who is the true Christian?	227
Chapter 25.	'The devil's hour of glory'	235
Chapter 26.	'Killing revolutionaries is no solution'	243
Chapter 27.	'PW was shaking with rage'	251
Conclusion.	Moving to centre stage for the 21st century	267