

China's Future

Constructive Partner or Emerging Threat?

Edited by
Ted Galen Carpenter and James A. Dorn

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
INTRODUCTION: THE FUTURE OF U.S.-CHINA RELATIONS Ted Galen Carpenter and James A. Dorn	1
PART I A HALF-CENTURY OF TURBULENT CHANGE
1. Fifty Years of China's Economy with Its Background in Politics and Society Mao Yushi	9
2. From Political Society to Economic Society: The Evolution of Civil Rights in China Kate Xiao Zhou	29
3. The Intellectual Turn: The Emergence of Liberalism in Contemporary China Liu Junning	49
4. The Gang of Three: Mao, Jesus, and Hayek William McGurn	61
PART II FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR OR EXPANSIONIST POWER?
5. Confusion and Stereotypes: U.S. Policy toward the PRC at the Dawn of the 21st Century Ted Galen Carpenter	69
6. China and the United States in Asia: The "Threat" in Perspective Selig S. Harrison	95
7. The Dragon's Reach: China and Southeast Asia Marvin C. Ott	111

8. Between Friendship and Rivalry
Peter W. Rodman 133

PART III TRADE, SECURITY, AND HUMAN RIGHTS

9. The Tao of Trade
James A. Dorn 149
10. China's Accession to the World Trade Organization: Costs and Benefits
Mark A. Groombridge 165
11. Living with Ambiguity? U.S.-China Relations in an Era of Transition
Robert A. Manning 189
12. Trading with China? Balancing Free Trade with National Security
Stefan Halper 211
13. China's Trade Regime at the End of the 1990s: Achievements, Limitations, and Impact on the United States
Barry Naughton 235

PART IV LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

14. Freedom: Can China Embrace It? Can Hong Kong Keep It?
Martin Lee 263
15. Hong Kong's Role in Freeing China: A Trojan Horse That Self-Destructs
Yeung Wai Hong 269
16. Taiwan in China's Future: Flash Point, Model, or Partner?
James R. Lilley 279
17. Political Change in Post-Mao China: Progress and Challenges
Minxin Pei 291

18.	China's Move to Market: How Far? What Next?
	Thomas G. Rawski	317
19.	Finishing China's Economic Reform: Challenges and Pitfalls
	David D. Li and Ling Li	341
	CONTRIBUTORS	357
	INDEX	365