

Andrew Robert Linn

Constructing the Grammars of a Language

Ivar Aasen
and nineteenth century Norwegian linguistics

---

CONTENTS

Preface .....	7
1. "The world possesses its ancient devices: as one descends so another rises"
1.1 Scope and aims of the book .....	11
1.2 The historiography of Scandinavian linguistics .....	21
1.3 Use of the book .....	30
2. Vernacular grammar writing in Denmark/Norway before Aasen
2.1 Introduction .....	32
2.2 Teaching grammars .....	34
2.3 The codification of Danish grammar .....	40
2.4 Dialectology .....	55
2.5 Summary .....	60
3. Aasen and nineteenth century Norway
3.1 Introduction .....	61
3.2 The reception of Ivar Aasen .....	62
3.3 The historical context .....	67
3.4 Nationalism and Romanticism .....	70
3.5 The real Ivar Aasen? .....	76
3.6 Summary .....	81
4. Aasen and nineteenth century Norwegian
4.1 Introduction .....	82

Contents

---

4.2	The emergence of the Norwegian language situation .....	83
4.3	Writing the 1848 grammar .....	86
4.4	Writing the 1864 grammar .....	90
4.5	The fate of the grammars .....	95
4.6	Summary .....	97
5.	Aasen and contemporary grammatical work
5.1	Introduction .....	98
5.2	Teaching grammars .....	99
5.3	Grammars of Icelandic and the ancient languages of Scandinavia .....	104
5.4	German/Germanic grammars .....	107
5.5	Other languages .....	113
5.6	Aasen's references .....	117
5.7	Summary .....	127
6.	Constructing Norwegian grammar 1: the books
6.1	Introduction .....	128
6.2	Titles .....	132
6.3	Chapter headings .....	144
6.4	Scene setting .....	147
6.5	Summary .....	149
7.	Constructing Norwegian grammar 2: the language
7.1	Introduction .....	150
7.2	Phonetics .....	150
7.3	Inflectional morphology .....	164
7.4	Syntax .....	185
7.5	Summary .....	194
8.	"Let him who has enough be satisfied" .....	196
	References .....	201
	Index nominum .....	217

---