

Zouping in Transition

The Process of Reform
in Rural North China

Edited by

Andrew G. Walder

Harvard University Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England 1998

Contents

Preface	xiii
1. Zouping in Perspective Andrew G. Walder	1
I Local Governments as Economic Actors
2. The Evolution of Local State Corporatism Jean C. Oi	35
3. The County Government as an Industrial Corporation Andrew G. Walder	62
4. Fengjia: A Village in Transition Huang Shu-min and Stewart Odend'hal	86
5. Establishing Markets: The Process of Commercialization in Agriculture Terry Sicular	115
II Distributional Consequences of Reform
6. Work, Wealth, and Power in Agriculture: Do Political Connections Affect the Returns to Household Labor? Sarah Cook	157

7. Preventive Health Care: Privatization and the Public Good	184
Gail Henderson and T. Scott Stroup
8. Making Schools Modern: Paradoxes of Educational Reform	205
Lynn W. Paine
Notes	239
Contributors	275