

Twenty Years On

Competing Memories of the GDR in Postunification German Culture

Edited by
Renate Rechtien and Dennis Tate

CAMDEN HOUSE

Rochester, New York

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: The Importance and Diversity of Cultural Memory in the GDR Context Dennis Tate	1

Part I: Media Constructions of 1989 and the Elusiveness of the Historical GDR

1: Visual Re-Productions of the Wende : The Role Played by Television Images in Constituting and Historicizing Political Events Hilde Hoffmann	23
2: Remembering GDR Culture in Postunification Germany and Beyond Stephen Brockmann	39

Part II: Challenges to the Dominant Discourse of the *Wende

3: "Das waren wir nicht!": The Image of East Germans and the GDR as a Narrative Problem after 1989 in Klaus Schlesinger's Die Sache mit Radow Daniel Argelès	57
4: "Der Schrei des Marsyas": The Mythic Voices of the Subaltern in Reinhard Jirgl's Mutter Vater Roman Arne De Winde and Frederik Van Dam	69
5: An Early Challenge to the Construction of Cross-Border Romance in Post-1989 Film: Andreas Dresen's So schnell es geht nach Istanbul Rosemary Stott	85

Part III: Textual Memory

- 6: Mediating Immediacy: Historicizing the GDR by Bringing It Back to Life in Postmillennial Works of Fiction 101
Andrea Geier
- 7: “Eine Armee wie jede andere auch”? Writers and Filmmakers Remember the Nationale Volksarmee 114
Andrew Plowman
- 8: Matter Out of Place: Trash and Transition in Clemens Meyer’s Als wir träumten 126
Gillian Pye

Part IV: Literary Generations — Competing Perspectives

- 9: Autobiographical Writing in Three Generations of a GDR Family: Christa Wolf — Annette Simon — Jana Simon 141
Wolfgang Emmerich
- 10: Accursed Progenitors? Extending the Generation-Gap Debate to GDR Parents 158
Astrid Köhler
- 11: Parallels and Divergences in Post-1989 Memory Discourse: A Comparative Review of the Slovak Experience 171
Nadežda Zemaníková

Part V: Afterlives

- 12: Dances of Death: A Last Literature from the GDR 187
Karen Leeder
- 13: “Die Gegenwart war es nicht”: Irina Liebmann and the Post-Wende Uncanny 203
Catherine Smale
- 14: One Iota of Difference: Remembering GDR Literature as Socialist Literature 217
Benjamin Robinson
- Notes on the Contributors 233
- Index 239