

FIGHTING BACK

A Memoir of Jewish Resistance in World War II

by
HAROLD WERNER

EDITED BY MARK WERNER

WITH A FOREWORD BY
MARTIN GILBERT

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS New York

CONTENTS

Explanation of Names, Places, and Events	ix
Foreword by Martin Gilbert	xi
Preface	xxiii
Editor's Acknowledgments	xxvii
1. Life in Warsaw Before the Storm	1
2. The Jewish Dilemma	6
3. Outbreak of War	11
4. The Trek Toward Russia	16
5. Life in Hola	23
6. Work as a Farm Hand	28
7. Childhood Remembrances	32
8. Remembrances of Life in the Big City	43
9. The Germans Invade Russia	57
10. Ominous News from Warsaw	64
11. The Winter of 1941-42	68
12. Betrayal at the Hands of the Hola Farmers	72
13. The Zamolodycze Raid	79
14. I Lose Many in the Skorodnica Forest	87
15. The Hunt	93
16. Taking the Offensive	96
17. A Short Stay in the Makoszka Forest	101

18. Our First Attack Against the Germans	107
19. March 1943	111
20. Rescuing Jews from the Wlodawa Ghetto	116
21. We Join Chiel Grynszpan's Partisans	126
22. Rescuing Jews from the Adampol Labor Camp	137
23. Spies	143
24. A Survivor of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising	146
25. An Ambush and a Happy Reunion	149
26. Successful Raids After Joining the Army Ludowa	154
27. A Sad Reunion	160
28. A Second Encounter with Zaremba	164
29. Donachy Gets Her Revenge	167
30. The Sobibor Death Camp	170
31. On the Offensive in the Fall of 1943	176
32. Destruction of Our Base in the Ochoza Forest	183
33. Destruction of the Ostrow Lubelski Garrison	186
34. Escape from Encirclement	188
35. Murder at the Hands of the Army Krajowa	194
36. Our First Parachute Drop	197
37. The Winter of 1943-44	201
38. Spring 1944	208
39. A Pitched Battle	216
40. Liberation	222
41. Disillusionment and Departure	232
Epilogue	236
Glossary of Names	237
Index	239