

---

Japan in the contemporary Middle East

---

Edited by
Kaoru Sugihara and J.A. Allan

London and New York

A publication of the SOAS Japan Research Centre and the SOAS Centre of Near and Middle Eastern Studies

---

Contents

---

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
List of contributors	xi
Preface and acknowledgements	xiii
Editorial conventions	xv
1 Japan, the Middle East and the world economy: a note on the oil triangle	1
Kaoru Sugihara
2 Japan and the Middle East: trade, international assistance and international relations	14
J.A. Allan
3 The Japanese trade contact with the Middle East: lessons from the pre-oil period	27
Hiroshi Shimizu
4 The changing structure of oil connections	54
Tetsuo Hamauzu
5 The Iran-Japan petrochemical project: a complex issue	83
Kazuo Takahashi
6 Japan's aid programme and the Middle East	94
Appendix: Japan's aid policy towards the Middle East following the Gulf Crisis	112
Makoto Mizutani
7 OECF and the Middle East	125
Appendix: Japan's aid experience with Egypt: a case study	138
Yoshitarō Fuwa

8	Japan and the Middle East in the 1970s and early 1980s: a Japanese diplomat's view	144
	Kazuo Chiba
9	Japan's relations with Israel	155
	Akifumi Ikeda
	Notes	170
	Index	183