

The Political Economy of Defense

ISSUES AND PERSPECTIVES

EDITED BY

Andrew L. Ross

CONTRIBUTIONS IN MILITARY STUDIES,
NUMBER 112

Greenwood Press

NEW YORK • WESTPORT, CONNECTICUT • LONDON

Contents

Tables and Figures	vii
Preface	ix
1. The Political Economy of Defense: The Nature and Scope of the Inquiry Andrew L. Ross	1
2. Fiscal Constraints and Defense Planning in Advanced Industrial Democracies William K. Domke	23
3. Power at What Price? The High Cost of Security in the Warsaw Treaty Organization Daniel N. Nelson	41
4. The Political Economy of Pentagon-Industry Collaboration in Technology Development Glenn R. Fong	67
5. Military Research and Development and International Trade Performance Judith Reppy	91

6. The International Arms Market: A Structural and Behavioral Analysis Andrew L. Ross	113
7. Electoral Cycles and Defense Spending in Israel: An Analysis of Quarterly Data Alex Mintz and Michael D. Ward	135
8. The Security-Welfare Relationship: Longitudinal Evidence from Taiwan David R. Davis and Steve Chan	155
9. The Political Economy of Defense Industrialization in the Third World Nicole Ball	175
10. The Political Economy of Military Spending and Economic Performance: Directions for Future Research Steve Chan	203
Index	223
About the Editor and Contributors	227