

The Tragedy of Afghanistan

A First-hand Account

RAJA ANWAR

Translated from the Urdu by Khalid Hasan

VERSO

London · New York

Contents

Translator's Note	vii
Author's Foreword	ix
Introduction: Fred Halliday	xiii
1. Early History	1
2. The British and Afghanistan	9
3. Into Modern Times	17
4. Genesis of the Pushtun Problem	30
5. The Birth of Afghan Communism	39
6. The Karmal-Taraki Break	48
7. The End of Kingship	69
8. The Takeover Plan	84
9. The April Revolution	92
10. Taraki's Tryst with Destiny and the First Conspiracy	110
11. The Contradictions of Afghan Society	125
12. Reforms and their Aftermath	141
13. The December Treaty	151
14. Taraki's End: Amin comes to Power	165
15. Taraki's Career, and his Murder	177
16. Amin in Office and his Downfall	182

17. Karmal: Brezhnev's own Creature	194
18. Karmal's 'New Phase'	203
19. 'Leninist Tactics'	217
20. The Red Army and Soviet Advisers	223
21. External Interference	229
22. The Afghan 'Mujahideen'	237
23. Karmal's Deposition and the Future Outlook	244
Notes	254
Index	281