NOTE

In quotations from original sources, contractions have been extended and the use of u and v, i and j has been standardized. I have not included an ellipsis for matter omitted from the end of a quotation unless it distorted the writer's meaning. Because of the serendipity of sermon notes, some punctuation has been silently added to ensure intelligibility, and periods have been substituted for colons and terminal dashes. Bible quotations are taken from the Authorized (King James) Version.
