Status, Power and Conflict in the Kibbutz

ELIEZER BEN-RAFAEL

Avebury
Aldershot · Brookfield USA · Hong Kong · Singapore · Sydney

Contents

Illustrations vii
Acknowledgements ix

1 A type of community: a debate 1
Introduction 1
Description 1
Equality vs stratification: the unfinished argument 5

2 Modern stratification 9
(with Ephraim Yuchtman-Yaar)
A critical evaluation of concepts and theories 9
The sociological context 12
The third dimension of stratification 16

3 Application: stratification in the kibbutz 21
The practical difficulties 21
The kibbutz as a test case 22
The leading questions 24
The research setting 25

4 Attributes and rewards 29
Does stratification exist in the kibbutz? 29
Rewards 30
The concept of API 34

5 Status and roles 43
The variables 43

	Order among work areas	48
	Work and activity: hypotheses	50
	The findings	52
	The structure of the community	61
6	Social strata	63
	The hypotheses	63
	Findings: the notable and the isolated	66
	Conclusions	75
7	Social mobility	77
	Obstacles to mobility	77
	Social mobility and higher education	79
	Power and stratification	81
8	Privileges and deprivation	87
	The privileges of higher status	87
	Deprivation in the kibbutz	90
9	Social networks	96
	Social life: characteristics	96
	Groups of friends: findings	98
	A new question	104
10	Social status and images of society	106
	Stratification and social images	106
	Uniformity versus divergencies	107
	Conclusions	111
11	Social conflicts	113
	Findings and discussion	114
	Conclusions	126
12	The kibbutz – what next ?	129
	Social problems	129
	Conservative innovations	138
	Social change and stratification – the example of self-fulfilment	142
13	Cultural contradictions, social tensions	145
Appendices		149
Bibliography		155
Index		163