

Joseph Hanlon and Roger Omond

The Sanctions Handbook

Penguin Books

Contents

Acknowledgements 7

Introduction 9

Part 1: Why Sanctions? by Roger Omond

- 1 Black Leaders 17
 - 2 Trade Unions 30
 - 3 Blacks Against Sanctions 37
 - 4 Opinion Polls 45
 - 5 Whites For Sanctions 50
 - 6 Whites Against Sanctions 54
 - 7 The Right-wing Threat 65
 - 8 Sanctions and the Economy 72
 - 9 Sanctions and Jobs 86
 - 10 South Africa's Dependent Neighbours I 95
 - 11 South Africa's Dependent Neighbours II 102
 - 12 Academic Boycotts 118
 - 13 Cultural Boycotts 124
 - 14 Sport 128
 - 15 The British Debate: Those in Favour 135
 - 16 The British Debate: Those Against 141
 - 17 The American Debate: The First Stages 156
 - 18 The American Debate: Those in Favour 161
 - 19 The American Debate: Big Business 167
 - 20 The American Debate: President Reagan and Other Voices 174
- Conclusion 186

Part 2: Which Sanctions? by Joseph Hanlon

- 21 The Only Available Weapon 191
- 22 Sanctions Do Work 204
- 23 Prospects for Success 212
- 24 Weakening the Apartheid State 219

6 CONTENTS

25	Will Sanctions Hurt Us?	228
26	Will Industry Stop without South African Minerals?	243
27	Other Excuses	260
28	Making Sanctions Work	270
29	Which Sanctions?	279
	Directory of Sanctions	300
	Bibliography: Part 1	366
	Notes: Part 1	368
	Bibliography: Part 2	374
	Notes: Part 2	379
	Index	388