

REVOLUTIONARY GRENADA

A Study in Political Economy

Frederic L. Pryor

PRAEGER

New York
Westport, Connecticut
London

CONTENTS

List of Tables	xii
Acknowledgments	xv
Abbreviations	xvii
Chronology	xix
1
Introduction	1
The Setting	1
The Initial Situation	2
Dramatis Personae	5
The Scenario	12
Notes	14
2
The Economic Development of Grenada	21
Introduction	21
The Basic Development Problems Facing Grenada	21
Important Institutional Considerations Influencing the Development Strategy	26
The Record of Economic Development before 1979	27
Development Strategies	29
Factors Underlying the Choice of the Development Strategy	38
Notes	39
3
The Quest for Foreign Aid	43
Introduction	43
The Phenomenon of Foreign-Aid Socialism in Grenada	44
The Diplomatic Offensive	47
A Balance Sheet	62

Continuity and Change	65
Notes	66
4
The Foreign Trade Sector	71
Introduction	71
Snapshots of the Foreign Trade Picture	72
Trading with the Socialist Bloc	79
The Balance of Payments	86
Concluding Remarks	92
Notes	92
5
The Leading Sectors: Tourism and Agriculture	95
Introduction	95
Tourism	95
Agriculture	104
Related Sectors: Fishing and Forestry	121
Notes	122
6
Other Sectors of the Economy	129
Introduction	129
Mining and Manufacturing	130
Construction	138
Utilities, Communications, and Transportation	140
Services	145
Concluding Remarks	158
Notes	158
7
Organization of the System	163
Introduction	163
The Party	163
The State	173
The Economy	185
Notes	193
8
Macroeconomic Performance	199
Introduction	199
Retail Prices	200

Unemployment	201
Production and Consumption	206
Distribution of Income	212
Overall Evaluation	214
Notes	215
9
Thinking About Third-World Socialism	219
Introduction	219
What is a Socialist System?	220
Third-World Socialism and "Socialist Orientation"	237
"Socialism" and "Socialist Orientation": Grenada as a Test Case	240
Speculations on Dynamic Elements	244
Performance of the Economy	246
Notes	247
10
Epilogue	251
APPENDIXES
Appendix A Research Notes	257
A-1: Notes on the NJM Coup	257
A-2: Foreign Espionage and Sabotage in Grenada	263
A-3: The Split between Bishop and Coard: Four Interpretations	271
A-4: The Last Days of the PRG	280
Appendix B Statistical Notes	289
B-1: Population Data	289
B-2: Some Quirks in the 1981 Population Census	291
B-3: Labor Force Data	294
B-4: Trade Data	299
B-5: Foreign Grants and Loans	308
B-6: The Balance of Payments	312
B-7: Quirks in the Agricultural Censuses	315
B-8: Agricultural Production	318
B-9: Manufacturing Production	321
B-10: Utility Production	322
B-11: Transportation and Communication Production	323
B-12: Construction Production	324

B-13: Services Production	326
B-14: The Budget of the Central Government	327
B-15: Wages and Retail Prices	331
B-16: Estimation of the GDP	333
B-17: Workers in the Public and Private Sectors	336
B-18: Classification of Nations by Ideology	336
B-19: The International Nutmeg Market	338
Appendix C U.S. Foreign Policy toward Grenada	341
Bibliography	375
Index	383
About the Author	397