

SECURITY AND THE STATE IN SOUTHERN AFRICA

Agostinho Zacarias

Tauris Academic Studies
LONDON • NEW YORK

Contents

Acknowledgements	viii
List of Abbreviations	ix
Introduction	xi
PART I	THE IDEA OF SECURITY AND SOUTHERN AFRICA	1
1	Historical Overview of the Concept of Security	3
	The Realist School	4
	The Balance of Power	6
	The Liberal School	11
	Collective Security	15
	The Marxist School	20
	Southern Africa and the Concept of Security	23
2	The Making of the Southern African Security System: Regional Factors	31
	The Discovery of Diamonds and Gold	32
	Towards Monopoly of the Means of Violence and Power	37
	South Africa and the Search for Regional Power Status	42
	The Impact of Nationalist Struggles	46
	Consolidation of the Bloc System	51
3	The Making of the Southern African Security System: Extra-Regional Factors	62
	NATO's Ambiguous Policies and Southern Africa	63
	Britain and South Africa	68
	The Socialist Bloc and Southern Africa	74
	The Replication of the East-West Divide in Southern Africa	81
PART II	LEGACIES AND INADEQUACIES OF TRADITIONAL APPROACHES TO SECURITY	93
4	The Legacies of the Southern African Security System	95
	The Southern African States	99
	The Successor Colonial States	100
	The Physical Base and Institutions	102
	Military-Related Legacies	106
	Socio-Economic Legacies	112

5	The Inadequacies of the Traditional Concept of Security	121
	The Traditional Concept	121
	The Nature of the State	124
	The Endemic Nature of Problems Impinging on Security	129
PART III	NEW APPROACHES TO SECURITY	137
6	Towards a New Concept of Security	139
	The Flaws in the Traditional Concept of National Security	139
	The Traditional Concept as a Negative Definition of Security	143
	Reconceptualizing Security: The Foundations of the Concept and its Relationships	144
	How to Guarantee an Equilibrium between Pillars	148
	The Nature of Agents: Changing the Nature of States	150
	Strengthening the Civil Society	153
	How to Assure the Balance between Competing Interests	155
7	From a System to a Community of Security?	161
	The Region and the Idea of Community	162
	The Variables of Security	168
	Managing the Variables	175
	How to Ensure a 'Security Society'	178
	The States	179
	The Civil Society	183
	The Role of International Donors	184
8	The South African Defence Industry and the New Thinking on Security	190
	Background	191
	The SADI and its Dilemmas	193
	The Proposed Solutions: Reformed Industry	198
	Conversion and its Problems	199
	Problems Facing the Industry	202
	An Alternative Role for the SADI	203
9	Conclusions	215
Annex I	Towards the Southern African Development Community	231
Annex II	Treaty of the Southern African Development Community	238
	Bibliography	255
	Index	274