

ROBERT BRODY

The Geonim of Babylonia and the Shaping of Medieval Jewish Culture

*Yale University Press
New Haven and London*

Contents

Preface xi

Acknowledgments xvii

Introduction xix

List of Abbreviations xxii

Part I The Historical Setting

- 1 Defining the Geonic Period 3
Savora'im and Geonim, 4; The End of the Geonic Era, 11
- 2 The Primary Sources 19
The Epistle of Sherira Gaon, 20; The Account of Rabbi Nathan the Babylonian, 26; The Importance of the Genizah, 30
- 3 The Geonic Academies: Continuity and Change 35
Related Institutions, 40; The Operation of the Academies, 43; Positions and Power in the Academy, 48
- 4 The Multifaceted Role of the Gaon 54
Head of the Academy, 54; Judge, 56; Administrator, 58; Author of Responsa, 60; Legal Innovator, 62; Additional Roles, 65

- 5 The Exilarchate 67
Sources of Authority, 68; Rights and Responsibilities, 71; Exilarchs and Geonim, 75; The Decline of the Exilarchate, 80
- 6 The Struggle against Heresy 83
'Anan and the Origins of Karaism, 85; Issues of Contention between Karaites and Rabbanites, 91; Rabbanite Reactions, 96
- 7 Competition with the Palestinian Center 100
The Palestinian Center and Its Academy, 101; Intellectual and Spiritual Life, 105; Legal Tradition and Literature, 109; The Babylonian Offensive, 113; The Palestinian Riposte, 121
- 8 Ties with the Diaspora 123
The Sphere of Babylonian Hegemony, 123; Palestine and Egypt, 126; The Maghreb, 129; Europe, 132

Part II The Classical Geonic Period

- 9 The Intellectual World of the Geonim 137
Knowledge of Languages, 138; Areas of Interest, 140; The Supernatural, 142; Attitudes towards Authority, 147
- 10 The Talmudic Sources 155
Oral versus Written Talmud, 156; Interpretation and Application of the Talmud, 161; Other Sources, 166
- 11 Extra-Talmudic Oral Traditions 171
Formulaic Traditions, 172; Other Halakhic Traditions, 178; Aggadic and Historical Traditions, 182
- 12 The Responsa Literature 185
Technical and Stylistic Aspects, 186; The Fate of the Responsa, 193; Problems of Identification and Attribution, 197
- 13 The She'iltot 202
The Genre: Form and Structure, 202; The She'iltot of R. Aḥai, 207; The Sources of the She'iltot, 210; The Influence of the She'iltot, 213
- 14 The Earliest Legal Codes 216
Halakhot Pesuqot, 217; Halakhot Gedolot, 223; The Impact of the Codes, 230

Part III Se'adyah Gaon and After

- 15 Se'adyah Gaon, Revolutionary Champion of Tradition 235
Se'adyah's Career, 235; Se'adyah as Revolutionary, 239; Se'adyah as the Champion of Tradition, 244
- 16 The Halakhic Monographs 249
General Characteristics of the Monographs, 249; The Monographic Writings of Se'adyah Gaon, 255; Monographs of Later Geonim, 260
- 17 Talmudic Exegesis and Methodology 267
Commentaries on the Mishnah, 267; Commentaries on the Talmud, 270; Early Works on Talmudic Methodology, 274; Sherira, Hayya, and Samuel b. Hofni, 278
- 18 Theology 283
The Background to Geonic Theology, 284; Se'adyah Gaon as Theologian, 289; Samuel b. Hofni and Other Geonim, 294
- 19 Biblical Exegesis 300
The Scope of Geonic Exegesis, 301; Exegetical Principles, 304; Theological and Polemical Dimensions, 308; The Relationship between Talmudic and Geonic Exegesis, 312
- 20 Linguistics and Poetry 316
Se'adyah Gaon as Linguist, 317; Se'adyah as Poet, 323; Hayya Gaon as Linguist and Poet, 329
- Epilogue 333
- Appendix A: Did the Geonim Enjoy Governmental Recognition? 337
- Appendix B: Chronology of the Geonim 341
- Glossary 347
- Bibliography 351
- Index 377