

HISTORY OF LINGUISTIC THOUGHT IN THE EARLY MIDDLE AGES

Edited by

VIVIEN LAW
Sydney Sussex College, Cambridge

JOHN BENJAMINS PUBLISHING COMPANY.
AMSTERDAM/PHILADELPHIA

1993

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword . . . . .	vi
Vivien Law (Cambridge): The Historiography of Grammar in the Early Middle Ages . . . . .	1
Vivien Law (Cambridge): Grammar in the Early Middle Ages: A Bibliography . . . . .	25
Mark Amsler (Newark, De.): History of Linguistics, 'Standard Latin', and Pedagogy . . . . .	49
Martha Bayless (Eugene, Ore.): Beatus quid est and the Study of Grammar in Late Anglo-Saxon England . . . . .	67
Rijklof Hofman (Utrecht): The Linguistic Preoccupations of the Glossators of the St Gall Priscian . . . . .	111
Colette Jeudy (Paris): Fragments carolingiens de la grammaire de Dynamius (ms. Darmstadt 3303) . . . . .	127
Anneli Luhtala (Helsinki): Syntax and Dialectic in Carolingian Com- mentaries on Priscian's Institutiones grammaticae . . . . .	145
Marina Passalacqua (Roma): Priscian's Institutio de nomine et pro- nomine et verbo in the Ninth Century . . . . .	193
Giovanni Polara (Napoli): A proposito delle dottrine grammaticali di Virgilio Marone . . . . .	205
Vivien Law (Cambridge): Erchanbert and the Interpolator: A Chris- tian Ars minor at Freising (CIm 6414) . . . . .	223
General Index . . . . .	245
Index of Manuscripts . . . . .	253