

DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN EAST AFRICA

Research and Education for Democracy in Tanzania

UNIVERSITY OF DAR ES SALAAM

CONTENTS

About the Authors	vi
Introduction	1

SECTION ONE

INDICATORS OF DEMOCRATIC CONSOLIDATION

Chapter One

Prerequisites for Democratic Consolidation in Kenya*Gichira Kibara*

Introduction	7
Indicators of Democracy	9
Current System of Government: A Democratic Audit	11
What Went Wrong?	14
The Way Forward	18
Conclusion	29

Chapter Two

Prerequisites for Democratic Consolidation in Tanzania*M. Bakari and S. S. Mushi*

Introduction	31
Democratic Consolidation in the Theoretical Literature	32
Democratic Consolidation: Our Perspectives	35
Outcomes and Indicators of Consolidation	37
Extent of Democratic Consolidation in Tanzania	38
Conclusion	46

Chapter Three

From Political Transitions to Democratic Consolidation:Uganda's Experience Since 1986.Charles N. Bwana*

Introduction	49
Conceptualization of Democracy	50
Prerequisites for Democratic Consolidation	55
Conditions for Democratic Consolidation	55
Uganda's Democratic Experience Since 1986	61
The Way Forward	65
Conclusion	66

SECTION TWO

POLITICAL PARTIES IN EAST AFRICA

Chapter Four

The State of Political Parties in Kenya and Transition to Democracy

Nick G. Wanjohi

Introduction	71
Proliferation of Political Parties after 1992	73
Institutionalization of Political Parties for Effective Performance	76
Conclusion	92

Chapter Five

The State of the Movement System in Uganda: Monopolizing Political Power or Deepening the Democratic Impulse?

Nansozi K. Muwanga

Introduction	96
Perspectives on Democratization in Africa	97
Defining the Movement System	103
Contradictions in the Democratic Ideal: Reality versus Rhetoric --	112
Conclusion	115

Chapter Six

The State of Political Parties in Tanzania

Amon E. Chaligha

Introduction	120
How Political Parties Relate with the Country's Population --	97
Conclusion	134

SECTION THREE

DEMOCRATIC SPACE AND POPULAR PARTICIPATION

Chapter Seven

Democratization in Kenya: Towards a Power Balance Among Institutions of Governance

Ludeki Chweya

Introduction	139
Relations Among State Institutions	140
State Institutions versus Civil Society Organizations	144
The Kenyan Experience	146
Conclusion	157

Chapter Eight

State of Popular Participation in Tanzania

Laurean Ndumbaro

Introduction	160
Civil Society and Participation	160
Popular Participation in Tanzania: the Single Party Era	162
Channels for Participation	165
Impact of Popular Participation	167
Conclusion	172

Chapter Nine

Civil Society and Political Participation in Uganda: Prospects for Consolidating Democracy

Genevieve E. Kyarimpa

Introduction	176
The Civil Society Discourse	177
Women's Organizations	184
Prospects for Consolidating Democracy in Uganda	188