

KNOWLEDGE AND POWER
IN MOROCCO

The Education of a Twentieth-Century
Notable

DALE F. EICKELMAN

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

CONTENTS

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS, TABLES, AND MAPS	ix
FOREWORD by Clifford Geertz	xi
PREFACE	xv
INTRODUCTION	3
Learning and the State	3
Intellectuals: Context and Style	8
ONE. BIOGRAPHY AS A SOCIAL DOCUMENT	14
The Anthropologist and the Judge	19
The Sharqawi Papers	25
TWO. BEGINNINGS	37
Bzu and Its Region	37
The Family Milieu: Origins	41
A Qadi's Childhood	50
His Brother's Footsteps	53
THREE. THE EDUCATION OF A QADI:
THE QURANIC PRESENCE	57
Islamic Knowledge in Morocco	57
The Social Context of Religious Learning	59
Carriers of the Quran	65
Places of Study	68
FOUR. THE YUSUFIYA: A PROFILE OF HIGHER ISLAMIC LEARNING	72
Rural Students in Marrakesh	77
Student Hostels	79

CONTENTS

Higher Learning and Society	85
The Mosque-University Milieu	91
FIVE. THE WORLD OF THE EDUCATED RURAL
NOTABLE	107
The Return	107
Discerning Islam	114
Self-Images	122
Bzu: The Two Faces of Learning	124
The Responsibilities of Learning	130
SIX. POLITICS AND RELIGION: FROM
PROTECTORATE TO INDEPENDENCE	135
The Berber Decree	135
The Colonial Apogée	137
The War Years	139
Postwar Nationalism	146
The Deposition	151
Independence: The View from the Periphery	155
SEVEN. THE GREAT TRANSFORMATION?	161
The Erosion of Traditional Learning	161
From Mosque-University to Religious Institute	169
Personal Choices	172
Challenges	173
GLOSSARY	181
BIBLIOGRAPHY	185
INDEX	197