

Armed Truce

THE BEGINNINGS OF THE COLD WAR

1945-46

HUGH THOMAS

HAMISH HAMILTON

LONDON

Contents

Preface	xi
Chronology of Events	xiii
List of Maps	xviii
BOOK ONE: DESPOTISM AND IDEOLOGY	1
1 Stalin's "Election"	3
2 National Sovietism	19
3 The Vozhd	38
4 Homo Staliens	51
5 Russia in 1946	76
6 Stalin's International Policy	88
BOOK TWO: THE WEST	105
7 The Coming of Entangling Alliances	107
8 The New Americans: Truman, Leahy, Byrnes	117
9 The New Americans II: Officials, friends, cronies	137
10 The Legacy of Roosevelt	168
11 Anglo-Saxon relations	191
BOOK THREE: DISPUTED LANDS	225
12 Far away countries: Eastern Europe; Poland and Czechoslovakia	227
13 Nations of the Danube: Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria	271
14 Heirs of the Turkish empire: Yugoslavia and Albania	298
15 Baltic harbours: Finland, the Baltic States, East Prussia	312
16 The heart of Europe: Germany and Austria	323
17 Gardens of the West: France, Italy and Spain	363
18 The "Northern Tier": Greece, Turkey and Persia	382
19 The East: China, Japan, Korea and Indo-China	406
BOOK FOUR: A PROFESSOR'S DREAM	431
20 The "Manhattan project"	439
21 The Soviet weapon; and first steps in "atomic diplomacy"	463

BOOK FIVE: WORLDS APART	479
22 The Road to Fulton: Kennan's telegram	481
23 Fulton and Churchill	500
24 Dénouement in Persia	514
25 "Patience and Firmness"; or, "Strength Without Ostentation"	526
Conclusion to the Armed Truce	541
Appendices	551
Notes	573
Index	643

Note

In respect of proper nouns I have kept the spelling used in each country save for certain well-known place names which have an English spelling: e.g. Prague, not Praha. I have kept generally to the old usage Persia instead of Iran, except where the latter usage is quoted in a document (see page 396).

Acknowledgements for unpublished material in libraries

I wish to give thanks to the Library of Congress in Washington for enabling me to quote from the diaries of Joseph Davies and William Leahy; to the Harry Truman Library in Independence, Missouri for enabling me to do the same from the diaries of Eben Ayers and Harold Smith; the Library of Yale University for the use of some pages of the diaries of Henry K. Stimson; and the Library of the London School of Economics, for kindly allowing me to quote from the unpublished diaries of Hugh Dalton.