Contents

Notes on Contributors viii
Acknowledgments xv
Notes on the Text xvii

Introduction: Renoir In and Out of His Time 1
Alastair Phillips and Ginette Vincendeau

Part I Renoir in Close-Up 13

Section 1 Reassessing Renoir's Aesthetics 15

1 Shooting in Deep Time: The Mise en Scène of History in Renoir's Films of the 1930s 16
Martin O'Shaughnessy

2 The Exception and the Norm: Relocating Renoir's Sound and Music 35
Charles O'Brien

3 The Invention of French Talking Cinema: Language in Renoir's Early Sound Films 53
Michel Marie

4 Renoir and His Actors: The Freedom of Puppets 72
Christophe Damour

5 Design at Work: Renoir's Costume Dramas of the 1950s 88
Susan Hayward

Section 2 Critical Focus on Selected Films 107

6 Sur un air de Charleston, Nana, La Petite Marchande d'allumettes, Tire au flanc: Renoir and the Ethics of Play 108
Anne M. Kern
Contents

7 La Grande Illusion: Sound, Silence, and the Displacement of Emotion
   Valerie Orpen 121

8 La Bête humaine: Double Murder at the Station at Le Havre
   Olivier Curchod 131

9 La Règle du jeu: Lies, Truth, and Irresolution
   (A Critical Round Table)
   Christopher Faulkner, Martin O'Shaughnessy, and V. F. Perkins 144

10 The River: Beneath the Surface with André Bazin
    Prakash Younger 166

Part II Renoir: The Wider View 177

Section 1 Renoir's Filmmaking and the Arts 179

11 Seeing with His Own Eyes: Renoir and Photography
    Alastair Phillips 180

12 Popular Songs in Renoir's Films of the 1930s
    Kelley Conway 199

13 Renoir and the Popular Theater of His Time
    Geneviève Sellier 219

14 Théâtricality and Spectacle in La Règle du jeu, Le Carrosse d'or, and Éléna et les hommes
    Thomas Elsaesser 237

15 French Cancan: A Song and Dance about Women
    Ginette Vincendeau 255

16 Social Roles/Political Responsibilities: The Evolving
    Figure of the Artist in Renoir's Films, 1928–1939
    Charles Musser 270

Section 2 Renoir's Place in the Critical Canon 291

17 Seeing through Renoir, Seen through Bazin
    Dudley Andrew 292

18 Henri Agel's Cinema of Contemplation: Renoir and Philosophy
    Sarah Cooper 313

19 Renoir and the French Communist Party: The Grand Disillusion
    Laurent Marie 328

20 "Better than a Masterpiece": Revisiting the Reception of La Règle du jeu
    Claude Gauteur 347
21 Renoir and the French New Wave
Richard Neupert

22 Renoir between the Public, the Professors, and the Polls
Ian Christie

Part III Renoir, a National and a Transnational Figure

Section 1 Renoir, the Chronicler of French Society

23 Renoir under the Popular Front: Aesthetics, Politics, and the Paradoxes of Engagement
Brett Bowles

24 The Performance of History in La Marseillaise
Tom Brown

25 Toni: A Regional Melodrama of Failed Masculinity
Keith Reader

26 La Règle du jeu: A Document of French Everyday Life
Christopher Faulkner

27 Renoir's Jews in Context
Maureen Turim

Section 2 Renoir, the Transnational Figure

28 Renoir's War
Julian Jackson

29 Interconnected Sites of Struggle: Resituating Renoir's Career in Hollywood
Elizabeth Vitanza

30 The Southerner: Touching Relationships
Edward Gallafent

31 The Woman on the Beach: Renoir's Dark Lady
Jean-Loup Bourget

32 Remaking Renoir in Hollywood
Lucy Mazdon

Filmography
Select Bibliography
Index