

War and Law Since 1945

GEOFFREY BEST

CLARENDON PRESS · 1994

Contents

Abbreviations, Short Titles, and Archive References xiii

PART I: THE BACKGROUND TO THE LAWS OF WAR

1. Introduction 3
 - War, Law, and the Laws of War 3
 - Public International Law, and the Law of War as Part of It 5
 - Objectives, Methods, and Limitations of This Book 10
 - Terminology and Abbreviations 12
2. The Laws of War from Early Modern Times to the Second World War 14
 - Grotius, Rousseau, and the Non-Combatant 26
 - Invasion and Occupation, Blockade and Bombardment 34
 - Expansion and Codification of the Law 39
 - Non-Combatants and Civilians: Dawn of the Modern Dilemma 44
 - The War of 1914-1918 and its Aftermath 47
 - The War of 1939-1945 60

PART II: RECONSTRUCTION OF THE LAWS OF WAR, 1945-1950

3. The United Nations and the New Legal Order of the World 67
4. The Geneva Conventions of 1949 80
 - Approaches to the Diplomatic Conference 80
 - The Diplomatic Conference: What Happened, and What did not Happen 99
5. Making the Geneva Conventions 115
 - The Protection of Civilians 115
 - The Security of Belligerents 123
 - Wounded, Sick, and Shipwrecked 132
 - Prisoners of War 135
 - Application and Enforcement 142
 - Repression of Violations 158
 - Non-International Armed Conflicts 168

6. The Contribution of the Courts: Nuremberg, Tokyo, and the Rest	180
War on Land	185
Military Necessity	187
Superior Orders and Command Responsibility	188
Hostages, Collective Punishments, and Reprisals	192
War at Sea	195
War in the Air	199
Entr'acte. How the Development of International Society Differed from the Legislators' Expectations	207
PART III: LAW AND ARMED CONFLICT SINCE 1950
7. Humanitarian Practice and the Laws of War	235
The Supposed Equality of Belligerents and Impartiality of Humanitarian Relief	235
Military Necessity's Moral Anchor in the jus ad bellum	241
The Spirit of Humanitarianism and the Letter of Law	247
8. Methods and Means	253
Combatants, Non-Combatants, and Civilians	253
Permissions and Prohibitions	266
Permissions: Military Objectives	272
Prohibitions:
Terror, Indiscriminate Bombardment, and Starvation	276
Cultural property and the environment	283
Perfidy	288
Prohibited weapons	293
Reprisals	311
Safety zones	318
Precautions and Proportionality	323
Combatants and Prisoners	333
The Legislation of the 1970s: The Additional Protocols	341
Prisoners, Detainees, and the ICRC	347
9. Application, Implementation, and Enforcement	370
Epilogue	403
Multilateral Politics	408
Humanitarian Public Opinion	410
The CDDH, 1974-1977	414
Suggestions for Further Reading	423
Index	427