

The Mysteries of Righteousness

The Literary Composition and Genre of the Sentences of Pseudo-Phocylides

by

Walter T. Wilson

J.C.B. Mohr (Paul Siebeck) Tübingen

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments .....	VII
Abbreviations .....	XI

Part One: Literary Presuppositions

Introduction .....	3
Chapter One: The Ancient Genres of Gnomic Wisdom .....	15
Chreiae Collections .....	16
Gnomic Poetry .....	18
Gnomologia .....	25
Wisdom Instruction .....	33
Chapter Two: The Canon of Cardinal Virtues in Antiquity .....	42

Part Two: Analysis of the Poem

Chapter Three: Summary Rendition of the Decalogue (verses 3–8) .....	63
Chapter Four: Exhortation Structured According to the Canon of Cardinal Virtues (verses 9–131) .....	75
Exhortation on Topics Relating to Justice (verses 9–54) .....	76
Exhortation on Topics Relating to Moderation (verses 55–96) .....	91
Exhortation on Topics Relating to Courage, Specifically Fortitude (verses 97–121) .....	103
Exhortation on the Topic of Wisdom and Speech (verses 122–131) ...	113

Chapter Five: Exhortation Structured According to the Relationships in Which One Lives (verses 132–227) .....	119
Exhortation Concerning Social ‘Outsiders’ (verses 132–152) .....	126
Exhortation Concerning the Nature and Importance of Work (verses 153–174) .....	130
Exhortation Concerning Personal Relationships Within the Household (verses 175–227) .....	134
 Chapter Six: Title, Prologue (verses 1–2), and Epilogue (verses 228–230) .....	 146
 Chapter Seven: The Literary Genre of the Poem .....	 178
 Bibliography
Primary Sources .....	201
Secondary Sources .....	207
 Indices
Passages .....	228
Modern Authors .....	240
Subjects .....	246