

Chaucer's Legendary Good Women

FLORENCE PERCIVAL

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Note on the text	page	x
Abbreviations		xi
Introduction		I
I Chaucer's Good Woman		21
1 The Good Woman: the daisy		23
2 Alceste: the Good Woman of legend		43
3 The Good Woman: a legendary beast?		59
II The God of Love		77
4 The God of Love		79
5 The accusation		96
6 The defence: tyrants of Lombardy		113
7 The defence: matere and entente		130
III The Palinode		149
8 The Palinode		151
IV The Legends of good women		171
9 Ariadne: the ladies and the critics		173
10 Medea: the ladies and their reputations		199
11 Cleopatra: legend of Cupid's saint		221
12 Dido: composite woman		239
13 Lucrece: too good to be true?		261
14 Phyllis and inherited male perfidy		284
V The Legend as courtly game		297
15 The Legend as courtly game		299
Epilogue		325
Index		333