

Poetic Castles in Spain

British Romanticism and Figurations of Iberia

Diego Saglia

Amsterdam - Atlanta, GA 2000

CONTENTS

PREFACE	9
INTRODUCTION
'Not Less Improbable than the Wildest Fictions of Romance': Narratives of Spain from the Peninsular War to the 1820s	19
War, Revolution and the Debate on Spain	19
Holland House and the Cultural Politics of Iberia	26
Mapping Difference: Romantic Descriptions of Spain	32
Fictions of Spain before 1808	40
Chivalry, Romance and Spanish Cultural History	52
Reading the Spanish Imaginary	60
CHAPTER ONE
Tales of War and National Narratives: The Peninsular War and Myths of the Nation	65
Multiplying the Romantic Nation	65
Spain as Composite National Text in Felicia Hemans's The Domestic Affections	72
Gothic Epos: British-Romanticism and the Roderick Theme	76
Southey's Roderick : Re-Constructing the Spanish Nation	82
Dismantling the Nation-Family: Landor's Count Julian	98
The Nation as Progress Text in Scott's The Vision of Don Roderick	106
Hemans's England and Spain and the Ambiguous Politics of the Progress Poem	115
Patriotic Knights and Matadors in Byron's Childe Harold I	125
CHAPTER TWO
Patriots, Heroines and Dons: Models of Subjectivity in the Spanish Text	144
Place and the Romantic Subject	144
The Revolutionary Leader and Nationalist Dilemmas in Landor's Count Julian	153
The Spanish Patriot as National Character	161
Re-Figuring Spanish Freedom Fighters in the Post-Napoleonic Period	173
Gothic Persecution in the Peninsular War: Mary Leman Grimstone's Zayda	182
Amazons, Patriotic Heroines and the Maid of Saragossa	191

The Spanish Princess as Domestic Heroine: Constance de Castile and Blanch of Aledo	204
Romance and the Other Identity: Heroic Britons and Spanish Ladies	225
Spain in ottava rima : Byron's Don Juan and Barry Cornwall's Diego de Montilla	238
CHAPTER THREE
Reconstructing the Spanish Orient: Moorish Spain and the Cross-Cultural Encounter	254
Delimiting Moorish Spain in British Romantic Culture	254
Alcon Malanzore and the Problems of Cultural Intactness	269
Hemans's The Abencerrage : The Politics of Resistance	279
Simplifying Moorish Polysemy: The Alhambra in George Croly's Sebastian	294
Moorish Ladies and the Shorter Moorish Tale	300
The Troubadour : Moorish Architecture and the Space of the Feminine	307
The Spanish-Moorish Text as Boundary in Lord Porchester's The Moor	314
BIBLIOGRAPHY	332
INDEX	350