

JAPAN UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Corruption, Politics, and Public Works

BRIAN WOODALL

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS
BERKELEY LOS ANGELES OXFORD

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Note on Conventions	xiii
Introduction	1
1. Construction Contractors and the Calculus of Collusion	25
2. Public Works Bureaucrats Under Siege	51
3. The Career Politician and the Phantom Party's Invisible Feet	81
4. Factioneers, Tribalists, and the LDP's Construction Caucus	103
Conclusion: Change and Inertia in the Politics of Japanese Public Works	124
Appendix A. Chronology of Trade Friction and Scandal in Japanese Construction, 1985–1994	151
Appendix B. Administrative Vice-Ministers of Construction, 1948–1994	155
Appendix C. Construction Ministers, 1955–1994	157
Appendix D. Positional Influence and the Pork Barrel: A Multivariate Regression Model	159

Notes	163
References	181
Index	205