

LIBYA SINCE INDEPENDENCE

OIL AND STATE-BUILDING

Dirk Vandewalle

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS

ITHACA AND LONDON

Contents

List of Acronyms	xi
Preface	xiii
Note on Transliteration	xxi
Chronology, 1951–1996	xxiii

PART I: INTRODUCTION AND THEORY

CHAPTER 1. Introduction: Issues and Framework	3
Situating the Debate	6
The Libyan Monarchy and Jamahiriyya	13
Overview	14
CHAPTER 2. The Distributive State	17
State Formation: Revenues and Institutions	18
State-Building in Distributive States	20
Politics and Development in Distributive States	23
Distributive States: Oil and History	31
State Strength, Autonomy, and Social Setting	33

PART II: LIBYA SINCE INDEPENDENCE

CHAPTER 3. Shadow of the Past: The Sanusi Kingdom	41
The Sanusi Kingdom and the Colonial Legacy	43
Libya's First Oil Boom: State-Building and Institutions	49
Conclusion	59
CHAPTER 4. From Kingdom to Republic: The Qadhafi Coup	61
Political Consolidation and Mobilization	63
The Popular Revolution and the Pursuit of Legitimacy	67
From Concession to Participation: Oil and Development	74
Conclusion	80
CHAPTER 5. Thawra and Tharwa: Libya's Boom-and-Bust Decade	82
Technocrats versus Revolutionaries: Transition toward a Jamahiriyya	85
The Green Book: Popular Rule	91
Popular and Revolutionary Means of Governing	99
The Green Book: Popular Management	106
Postponing Reform: The Last Great Spender of Petrodollars	115
Postponing Reform: Confrontation Abroad, Mobilization at Home	121
The Politics of Evocation: Myths, Symbols, and Charisma	124
Emerging Problems of Control	132
Oil and State-Building during Libya's Revolutionary Decade	135
Conclusion	138
CHAPTER 6. Shadow of the Future: Libya's Failed Infitah	142
"Revolution within the Revolution"	144
Libya's Infitah	151
Markets, Institutions, and Economic Reform	155
Growth and Development	161
Conclusion	165

PART III: CONCLUSION

CHAPTER 7. Oil and State-Building in Distributive States: The Libyan Contribution	169
State-Building, Institutions, and Rent-Seeking in Distributive States	170
The Power of the Distributive State	174
Power or Wealth: Politics in Distributive States	177
State-Building in the Jamahiriyya: Observations on the Future	181
Oil, State-Building, and Politics	185
Bibliographical Note	191
Selected Bibliography	202
Index	219